McCARTHY SCORES CARROLL COOK

ACCUSES ATTORNEY OF AN ATTEMPT TO WORK GRAFT PLOT

Chief Executive of San Francisco Says
That Lawyer Wanted to Rule
Chinatown Unmolested

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Mayor P. H. McCarthy, coming to the defense of his secretary, Elmore Leffingwell, in an exhaustive statement this morning, accuses Attorney Carroll Cook of attempting to "become the absolute master of gambling in Chinatown." He alleges that Cook offered a sop in the form of an offer of the position of attorney for the Chinese Six Companies to George Appell, law partner of Cleveland L. Dam, the mayor's attorney, if he should be given carte blanche in the Oriental quarter.

In reply to this, which is but one of several startling allegations contained in the official declaration to the press, Judge Cook avers that it was Appell who approached him, and that it was he who turned down the proposition, and that, moreover, he has a witness who was an eavesdropper to the conversation held between himself and Appell over the telephone.

He also affirms that he has a witness who knows about the collection of graft in Chinatown and who can be brought forward. In his reply statement Cook makes public his revelations before the grand jury.

Statement by Mayor

Secretary Leffingwell has left to his chief the task of replying to the allegations made by the woman who identified him last night before the grand jury.

The mayor's statement and accusation against Judge Cook follows:

"The motive for Carroll Cook's attack upon the office of the mayor is easily understood. Not many days ago he caused overtures to be made to Mr. George Appell, law partner of my attorney, Cleveland L. Dam, offering to turn over to Appell the attorneyship for the Chinese Six Companies, which is presumed to be a fine plum, in return for certain official courtesies and considerations which were unmistakable in their character.

Appell was to take an office away from Dam's office and figure as the actual lawyer for the Chinese Six Companies, leaving Dam free to deny any and all connection with the matter if he so chose.

Would Be Absolute Master

The consideration, as understood by Appell, Dam and myself, was to be that Carroll Cook, for his sacrifice of attorneyship, would be officially sustained by the police so that he might become the absolute master of gambling in Chinatown. This whole proposition was given a respectful hearing and was then rejected by Appell, Dam and myself.

"No doubt Carroll Cook thinks that my secretary also had a great deal to do with rejecting the scheme. Revenge and political hostility are the motives now actuating this man Cook, who did not have the temerity to challenge the truth and sufficiency of a charge made editorially in a morning newspaper last Saturday to the effect that he had 'perpetrated crime under the protection of judicial injunction' and had 'for years tied the hands of the police so that they might not be able to deal with disreputable places,' thus shamefully disgracing the emine of the bench to which the people elevated him.

Fallen Women as Clients

"Carroll Cook's original employment in this matter comes from one of the most wealthy and arrogant of San Francisco's fallen women, who approached Cook through a man well known and thus far fairly well thought of in so-called society circles. The Gilbert woman, who figures as Cook's client, was taken from this proud brothel and placed for a few days in a confine so that she might resist medical examination and thereby be arrested, thus getting the case into court, where it is now pending. In the interim a very reputable attorney declined the case which Carroll Cook eagerly accepted.

"Moving from this point, the women of the so-called parlor houses were organized and the three leading men among the macquereaux were set to work as collectors. As late as Monday night the Le Roy woman was still industriously gathering money for Carroll Cook, having demanded $100 from a neighboring proprietress of a disreputable resort, which demand, it so happened, was not complied with. A mass of information has been prepared for the district attorney and whenever Carroll Cook thinks he has had his inning, the other side of the story will loom strong and large.

Employed by Cook

"My secretary, Mr. Leffingwell, was once detailed by a newspaper editor by whom he was employed, to report to Carroll Cook for a certain political assignment. He obeyed orders and was commanded by Cook to proceed to a northern county of this state to gather data which would tend to ruin the character and standing of

JUAREZ IS CAPTURED NAVARRO SURRENDERS

MADERO IS VICTOR IN FIGHT

Terrific Conflict Rages in the Streets Till Federals
Are Taken

Diaz' General Is Routed From His Last Stand by Artillery Fire

EL PASO, May 10.—Juarez, the objective point of the Mexican revolutionists for many months, because it is a port of entry to the United States, fell into the hands of General Francisco I. Madero Jr. today. General Navarro, with a small command, resolutely held out in the barracks near the center of the town for several hours, but finally was forced to hoist the white flag at 12:35 o'clock. Navarro and staff have surrendered to Col. Garibaldi.

The rebels had taken most of the cannon and since noon had been directing their fire at the last federal stronghold. The first shot had a telling effect.

DEATH LIST REACHES 80.

The victory was not secured without terrible loss of life. The dead probably number nearly eighty. The number of wounded is nearly 150, it is estimated, many of them fatally. Casualties on the American side of the line number 4 killed and 16 wounded.

Scores of physicians, their Red Cross insignia glaring in the sunlight, are tending federal and insurrecto wounded alike.

Juarez is a mass of ruins. Dynamite bombs, shells, bullets and a conflagration that raged for hours have wrecked the usual tranquil and sleepy town. Numerous adobe houses, characteristic of Mexican towns, were razed.

As soon as the white flag was hoisted over the barracks and the surrender of the federalists complete, Mexican flags were unfurled on house-tops and church bells began ringing in celebration.

BURY THE DEAD.

Most of the dead have been dragged from the streets and already are being buried. The wounded no longer litter the streets, scores of physicians having dashed to the scene. The residents of the town are striving valiantly to give succor to the wounded, whose groans are heard constantly.

About 1:30 p. m. General Navarro and his staff surrendered to Col. Garibaldi of the insurrecto army. An Associated Press correspondent has just returned from the barracks where he spoke to General Navarro. Col. Garibaldi was congratulating General Navarro on the splendid fight he put up when the correspondent arrived. General Pascuala Orozco, the rebel commander, gave orders to his men at 12:25 o'clock to give all the help possible to the wounded on both sides. He himself has been shaking hands with federal officers, who are prisoners, and telling them how bravely they fought.

Federal Officer Slain

An Associated Press correspondent returned at 12:10 from Juarez, where he interviewed Orozco. General Orozco declared that none of his chiefs had been hurt and that he practically had driven all the federalists from town. The correspondent talked with Col. Pueblito, of the federal army, who has a wound in his eye. Pueblito declared that Col. Tamarit, one of the federal commanders, was dead. He said he hardly believed

LIEUT. COL. PORFIRIO DIAZ, JR., son of President Diaz of Mexico. He has been named as special Ambassador to Japan to thank the Mikado for the courtesies and congratulations extended to Mexico during the celebration of the Centennial of Independence last September. He may leave next September to fulfill the mission, provided matters in Mexico are still in the hands of President Diaz. He would have gone to Japan two months ago but for the outbreak of the revolutionists. At that time he was appointed as chief of the Presidential staff, relieving Lieut. Col. Samuel Garcia Cullao, who was assigned to active duty.

Army Aviator Plunges to Death From U.S. Aeroplane

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 10.—Lieutenant George M. E. Kelly of the Thirtieth Infantry, U. S. A., was killed this morning in a fall from a Curtiss aeroplane at Fort Sam Houston. He was making a flight and when about 50 feet from the ground shot forward from his seat, landing on his head. His skull was fractured and he died in a few minutes without regaining consciousness. Kelly was a pupil of Glenn Curtiss in aviation and came here about three weeks ago from San Diego, Cal., where he received his first lesson. It is believed the accident was caused by the unexpected starting of the engine while Kelly was making a landing.

One-Year-Old Babe Sues Physician for $25,000

DENVER, May 10.—Gleason Fillmore, one year and ten days old, the youngest plaintiff in the history of the courts of Colorado, through his parents, brought suit yesterday for $25,000 against the physician who brought him into the world, alleging that through the doctor's carelessness he will be a cripple all through life which he has just begun. The baby's feet, it is alleged, were allowed to come in contact with some powerful antiseptic fluid immediately after birth and as a result all the toes and a part of the baby's right foot had to be amputated.

Sells 'Body and Soul' to Hospital Nurses for $7

CHICAGO, May 10.—Charles Kittick, who sold his "body and soul" to seven nurses at the National Maternity Hospital, died at the hospital last night. Kittick was suffering from a peculiar form of locomotor ataxia, and the terms of the bill of sale of his body, the corpse will be used in clinical research. Kittick sold himself for $7 and used the money to pay the last bill he owed—his room rent. Record of the sale was filed with the county recorder yesterday.

The municipal election yesterday was, in several respects, one of the most remarkable and most important which has ever been held in this city. It called out the largest number of voters who have, at one time, ever attended the polls in this city at a local election. There were 22,023 votes polled. This number was in excess of 1,537 of the vote cast at the nominating primary which was held three weeks ago. For the second time since the annexation of the territory between Fruitvale avenue and the western boundary line of San Leandro, the members of the socialist party were given an opportunity of showing the strength their organization has developed in this section within the last few years.

The Socialist Strength

While the total vote given some of the members of that organization are misleading, at the same time the votes of the actual members of the party show that the latter has a strength which has been developed within a comparatively short period of time. The votes credited to the socialist candidate for mayor which do not add to the strength of the party are those cast by some disaffected persons who had a personal grudge against the administration of Mayor Mott and whose desire to run matters in their own way could not be gratified.

The election of Mayor Mott was conceded by people who had taken into consideration the good work which had been accomplished by that gentleman during the six years of his incumbency in the office of mayor. And yet there was no man in this city more apprehensive of the result than the mayor himself. He was unwilling to admit that he had been again chosen to lead in the administration of the affairs of this city until after he had been shown the returns

WILKINS GETS 30 DAYS' REPRIEVE

Governor Johnson to Investigate Convicted Slayer's Plea for Clemency.

SACRAMENTO, May 10.—Thirty days were added to the term of Louis Auguste and Mark A. Wilkins today by Governor Johnson in issuing reprieves to them, thus forestalling their executions which were to have been held in San Quentin on Friday. The reprieves were issued so as to give the governor an opportunity to look up the applications for clemency in both cases.

CONTEST OF COWELL WILL APPEARS VERY PROBABLE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Mrs. Ernest V. Cowell, widow of the late cement man, was given an additional allowance of $1500 a month, making $3500 in all, by Judge Graham today. It is understood that two sisters and a brother of the deceased may contest the will, and the $750,000 donation to the University of California will probably be an object of attack.

BROTHERHOOD IN CONVENTION. HARRISBURG, Pa., May 10.—The business before the convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen began today with the report of the committee on credentials and preliminary business. It is predicted that the convention will run between two and three weeks.

KILLED IN AUTO. SHELBY, O., May 10.—Four men were killed today when a Baltimore & Ohio train struck the automobile in which they were riding.

MAYOR MCCARTHY CALLS CARROLL COOK A KNAVE
Well Known Attorney Accused of Trying to Secure by Irregular Means Immunity for Chinese

Judge James A. Cooper, a distinguished pioneer, whom Cook feared as a rival candidate in a contest for the Appellate bench. Leffingwell drilled over the ground for some time, tracing the career of this northern citizen and finding nothing against him other than the dislike of a few litigants in a law suit and some political enemies.

"There was not a single blot upon the man's character, and his popularity was universal. My secretary returned empty handed and reported the futility of his errand to Carroll Cook, who then ran for the office and was defeated. How deeply Cook has since cherished the grudge arising from the failure of an attempt to assassinate the character of a superior man is best shown in his pernicious activities now to even scores with Leffingwell, injure the cause of union labor and serve the end of his affluent but contemptible clients.

COOK NOURISHES ANGER.

"After making the offer to the firm of Dam & Appel, which was designed to place in his hands the scepter of power in Chinatown, Cook sent a subscription list to this office asking that money be given him for the relief of the starving hosts in China. When explanation was made that the mayor's mite had been contributed long since through other channels, his representative expressed grievous disappointment, which unquestionably inspired further hatred and desire for revenge in the breast of this money-mad and fallen jurist.

"Cook has fought hard to prevent the medical examination of Chinatown's disreputable women, but in this quarrel lay with the board of health, and particularly Dr. George L. Eaton. In his failure to capture Chinatown by peddling the attorneyship for the Chinese Six Companies, his quarrel easily lies with Mr. C. L. Dam and myself.

"Police annals show what Thelma Le Roy has done in the past in the way of attempting the ruin of men who block her way. The records prove that she drove one police officer out of the department when she found that he was determined to discharge his police duty and not fall under her blandishments. "It must be remembered that upon noting the first intimation of an impending political attack through newspaper defamation, I demanded, as mayor, a full and complete investigation by the grand jury. Carroll Cook, coming then into action, produces as his sole accuser of my administration a notorious woman of the underworld who has had previous experience as the tool of gumshoe detectives and is an expert in frame-ups. Even as water finds its level, so Cook found this client. As for my secretary telling this woman of the underworld to 'go ahead and open your crib,' she might as well have gained such a statement from the janitor of the building, or the man in the moon, inasmuch as the mayor's secretary, or clerk, has no official power and could not grant the desired privilege. The Le Roy woman, who, she is enough, does not charge that she any money to my secretary, or that money was asked for, or even discussed, will be protected.

TRYING TO GET WITNESSES.

"Carroll Cook is today industriously working among the Chinese clients trying to dig up a few witnesses to testify that a man from the mayor's office tried to obtain bribe money from some of the gumbler. I grieve for Carroll Cook in this regard for a plan, unhappily for himself, was nipped in the bud over a week ago when my secretary turned over to the chief of police a presence of a batch of threatening and cajoling letters he had received from one of Cook's human 'plants' and demanded that the pestering be stopped. My secretary also informed the chief of police that Chinese were continually telephoning his office and house and trying to see him in person at both places. My secretary likewise informed the chief that Dr. Bunnell, examining surgeon in Chinatown for the clinic, had discovered a man named Kahn or Cohen, soliciting $2500 from a Chinese Six Companies guaranteeing Chinese women immunity therefor. So at least one plot of this barrister in devilry falls flat.

WOMAN OF EVIL RECORD.

"Peter Fanning and his family knew the Le Roy woman years ago and before she had departed from rectitude to a life of shame. For many years past he had aided her when she was in distress, but because he was not yet for her consent of the police and health board to open a so-called confine or crib, she has willingly become Cook's client and has gone out upon her mission of revenge. The career of Thelma Le Roy is an interesting one, and its details will later prove instructive to the public.

"The time can never come when the unsupported word of a desperate and abandoned woman of the town, even under the coaching of a cunning knave like Cook, can prevail against the word of two such men as Leffingwell and George L. Eaton. I have absolute confidence in the two latter named, and I very cheerfully undertake to meet the political issue which Cook attempts to raise through leading this woman of the underworld to the grand jury room and working up a wide publicity for her false and malicious accusations against me. (Signed) P. H. MCCARTHY."

Former Judge Carroll Cook made an exhaustive statement in reply to the accusations of the mayor.

"The letter of the mayor as shown to me," he began, "says that I have been working among Chinese clients to find witnesses to testify that the Chinese mayor's office tried to obtain bribe money; that is wholly untrue. I have in my possession the name of a man who did attempt to obtain money from the Chinese, but he was not tested by me before the grand jury, but he is not connected with the mayor's office and I never charged that he was."

The first statement contained in the letter that the mayor made to me caused overtures to be made to me by George Appel, law partner of Attorney Cleveland L. Dam, the mayor's attorney, is absolutely untrue on any foundation at all. "Any overtures made in that respect were made by Appel himself and not by me, and I never received them. I never considered by me for a day or two were rejected by me and not by the mayor's office. And fortunately telephone communications made by him to my office were overheard by other persons, so that I am able in addition to produce a reputable witness as to the falsity of the statement contained in this portion of the letter."

DENIES CHARGING GRAFT.

"I have never at any time accused any members of the present administration of being guilty of grafting in this matter. What I did say in court was that the methods being pursued gave opportunity for the greatest kind of grafting, that they were illegal and not justified by law. I made no accusation against either the mayor or his secretary, or against anyone else. The statements made in the letter shown me as having been written by the mayor are without the slightest foundation in any particular. As his secretary, Mr. Leffingwell, states that he never authorized the use of any information obtained by him relative to Judge Cooper, he states what is untrue. He did come to me as representative of a paper for which he was then working, and he testified before the grand jury, objected to having records perpetuated as to the lodging houses in which the women lived. I never at any time was employed in the Gilbert case, her attorney being Mr. Surig. Finding her case on the calendar of the court, I asked a continuance so I might use it as the basis for civil proceedings contemplating instituting them to procure a determination that the req-

MAKES FURTHER DENIAL.

"As to the other statement, of my original employment, in the matter of the municipal clinic, that it came from any man in society circles is false. My attention was first directed to the same by a Chinese client, whose name I testified before the grand jury, objected to having records perpetuated as to the lodging houses in which the women lived. I never at any time was employed in the Gilbert case, her attorney being Mr. Surig. Finding her case on the calendar of the court, I asked a continuance so I might use it as the basis for civil proceedings contemplating instituting them to procure a determination that the req-

VICTORS PLAN ATTACK ON ENSENADA
Jubilant Rebels Polish Their Rifles and Prepare for More Fighting.

Liquor Destroyed at Tia Juana and Merchants Told to Reopen Stores.

TIA JUANA, Lower California, May 10.—General Sam Pryce, in command of the rebel army at Tia Juana, says it will be Ensenada next. Before the advance on Ensenada is begun, however, it will be necessary for him to dispose of a force of about one hundred federalists said to be at the Dupree ranch, twenty-five miles southeast of Tia Juana.

Everything is quiet in Tia Juana this morning and merchants are preparing to re-open their stores and resume business on the promise of Pryce that they will not be molested, but on the contrary, will be protected.

Whether a force of federalists is really at Dupree's ranch no one in Tia Juana seems to know positively. The men are resting today and cleaning up their rifles and revolvers. All of them seem to have plenty of ammunition. Scouting parties are out to the south and east to give warning of the advance of a force from the direction of Mexicali or from Ensenada.

VICTORS JUBILANT.

The rebels say there are but 200 men, soldiers, rurales and volunteers at Ensenada, and that they will be able to take the town with little difficulty. All of the men are jubilant. They believe the advance on Ensenada has really begun, and that with Tia Juana secure they will have little to fear.

General Pryce said today: "After we have disposed of the force at Dupree's ranch I will leave a sufficient number of my men here to protect the town and then go on down to Ensenada. By that time I will have reinforcements. We expect to have more trouble down there than we had here, because we probably will have to fight a larger number. 'After Ensenada' has been taken then the work of establishing a stable government will begin. Just who may be at the head of it I do not care to say."

LIQUOR DESTROYED.

"The merchants are free to come, re-open their stores and resume business. I have destroyed every drop of liquor in Tia Juana, excepting some beer and light wines which we found. There is not a drop of whisky or champagne in Tia Juana this minute."

The hunt for dead bodies in the rocks and underbrush near Tia Juana was resumed this morning. Pryce insists that his statement of the number of dead and wounded rebels made last night is correct and that his men are searching only for the dead federalists. All of the arms and ammunition found on the bodies and in the buildings of Tia Juana have been added to the arsenal of the rebels. All of the rebels are well-armed, and P. says the reserve supply will be needed as the army grows.

Regarding the possibility of a movement of the troops under Col. Mayot, now guarding the United States government work on the Colorado river, Pryce would say nothing. He seems, however, to regard that possibility as remote and thinks that on Ensenada is taken he will have that army and his men at the mercy of the rebel army.

SALER, Mass., May 10.—That Miss Gertrude R. Putnam, niece of Thomas J. Putnam, superintendent of the Congressional Library at Washington, and a descendant of General Israel Putnam, was married to Constantine C. Montakle, a local candy merchant, at Nashua, N. H., thirteen months ago, has just become known. News of the wedding came as a result of a photograph which the young couple sent to John Foyden Putnam of Hume, Cal., a wealthy relative of the bride. The California man wired back his congratulations together with the information that he had signed papers transferring a mine to the young people.

"JAPAN NATION OF MERE UPSTARTS"

Russian Minister to Morocco Thus Classifies the Nipponese.

Appears to Be a Bit Peeved at Sealing Proclivities of the Little Brown Men.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Japan is a nation of "mere upstarts," according to Pierre Borkine, Russian minister to Morocco, who had been sent to America as special commissioner to the fur seal convention at Washington. Russia, Japan and England have sent delegates. England, with the exception of a few small islands, has very small interests and will remain neutral, leaving the issue to be decided by the United States as arbitrator between Russia and Japan.

"Long before Japan was heard of," the Russian commissioner said on his arrival here, "Russia was there and held the right to hunt seals along the Eastern Siberian coast. Japan's assertion of the same rights as Russia was one of the causes of the late war. Whoever heard of Japan twenty years ago? Can you imagine them putting in such a demand? What are they but upstarts?"

'Reptile Queen' Flings Snake at Woman

Side Show Worker Arrested and Proves to Be Young Man; Held for Battery.

WATERBURY, Conn., May 10.—"Zoma, the Queen of Reptiles," a side show feature with a circus, now in this city, is under arrest charged with assault and battery. Nabbed by the police in the midst of a performance, the "queen" proved to be a young man about 24 years of age.

He is accused of throwing a snake at a woman, some young woman in the audience, at an afternoon performance, the reptile striking her full in the face and wrapping itself about her arm and shoulder.

The woman went into hysterics and is under a physician's care today.

POLITICIANS TO BLAME, SAYS STATE PRINTER

ALBANY, N. There are 100 errors on the part of the politicians to one of the printers, he said.

JOHN WOLTER WILSON GAINS POINT IN TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Another point was gained for the defense today in the case of John Walter Wilson when W. B. A further dissimilarity, he declared, existed as regards the paper used to wrap the poison.

GOLDEN GATE ASSEMBLY TO ATTEND OAKLAND PLAYHOUSE

E. L. BALLARD, Master Artisan, seated, and A. R. MOULTON, Chairman of House, United Artisans.

Golden Gate Assembly No. 62, United Artisans, is to give a theater party at the Liberty tomorrow evening. Many of the members are to go as guests of the order as a reward for their efforts in obtaining new members. Others are purchasing tickets and inducing their friends to do likewise and as several hundred tickets have been disposed of there is expected to be a large showing.

The proceeds of the theater party are to be devoted to replenishing the sinking fund of the order. Accompanying photographs are of Edward L. Ballard, the present presiding officer, and Alfred R. Moulton, chairman of the house committee. The success of the party is in the hands of Mrs. A. R. Moulton, Mrs. J. W. Kirk and Mrs. Grace Olesen, the committee in charge.

the insurgents could have taken the town so easily.

Gen. Madero has started for the town to establish his headquarters there while the rebel cavalry under Col. Villa, the fiercest of the revolutionists' horsemen, are in pursuit of a detachment of federal troops fleeing southward from town.

The rebels are swarming into the streets. The residents of the town are coming out from their shelter and the shouts of victory can be heard on the American side.

The sun burned fiercely and the revolutionists who had been fighting for hours without food or water, were relieved by the residents of the town, most of whom seem to be insurrecto sympathizers.

Navarro Yields When Cannon Rips Holes in Barracks

EL PASO, May 10.—At 8:15 a. m. a wounded insurrecto was brought across the Santa Fe bridge, bringing the total number of wounded to 21.

At 8:20 o'clock the insurrectos began exploding dynamite bombs in the streets. Colonel Garibaldi and 200 men were reported to be surrounding the Portico Diaz hotel, opposite the customs house, where a number of federals have taken shelter.

Reinforcements on Way

A message to the Madero headquarters today said that 300 insurrectos from Casas Grandes had arrived at Baucha, eleven miles south of Juarez.

Colonel Fabrega, with federal reinforcements, was reported at the rebel headquarters to be at Suaz, 136 miles south, with no prospect of getting there within a week.

Liberate Prisoners

At 9:30 o'clock a big explosion occurred at the schoolhouse where federals are quartered. A report from the front to the Madero headquarters says the insurrectos drove the Fourteenth Mexican Infantry from the big Cuartel, taking four prisoners. The men were disarmed and liberated. Dynamite bombs are being exploded constantly around the church and municipal building. Refugees have been pouring across the bridges today. The insurrecto reinforcements from Baucha have left there and should arrive in Juarez about 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Americans in the insurrecto ranks are reported to have plundered several jewelry stores last night and to have transported their booty to friends on the American side.

Gen. Madero has started for the town to establish his headquarters there while the rebel cavalry under Col. Villa, the fiercest of the revolutionists' horsemen, are in pursuit of a detachment of federal troops fleeing southward from town.

Four Americans Killed

A revised list of the casualties on the American side of the line since the fighting began now gives the number of dead as four and wounded fifteen.

A wounded insurrecto brought across the line at 10 a. m. declared he received his wound while fighting in the tower of the church. He says that General Blanco with 200 men stormed the church at midnight and after a fierce fight drove the federals from the building.

The Red Cross has assembled a number of wagons at the Santa Fe bridge and is preparing to go into Juarez to get the wounded. There is some firing to the west of the city, but otherwise the rebels at 10:45 a. m. seem to be in complete control.

At 12 o'clock the insurrectos placed a cannon in position to begin bombardment of the barracks where Navarro and a number of his men were located.

The first shot from the insurrecto cannon was a telling blow. A casual firing at the barracks continued. The gray-haired federal leader was making his last stand there. A few days ago he declared that if the rebels had the whole town and he only the barracks, he still would be able to hold out for a week until reinforcements came.

Streets in Ruins

With the surrender of the barracks the capture of Juarez is complete. The main street is in ruins, some of the houses were riddled with bullets. Plaster, brick and piles of debris are scattered everywhere. Windows in many stores have been broken. Rebels are guarding the entrances to them to prevent looting. Some of the houses have been demolished by the dynamite bombs and shells.

Stockton Man Hurt

W. F. Kelly of Stockton, Cal., received a wound in the shoulder while standing on the canal on the American side shortly before noon.

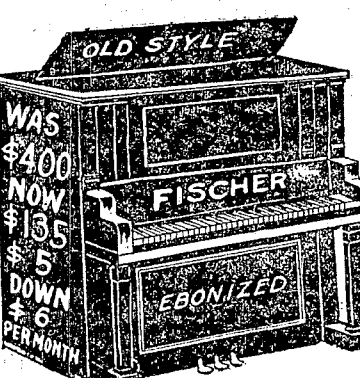

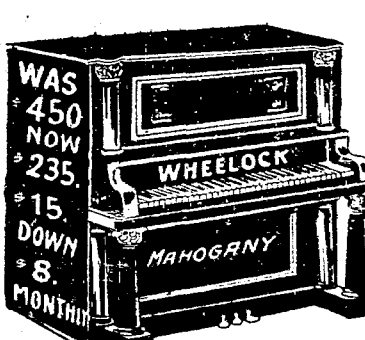

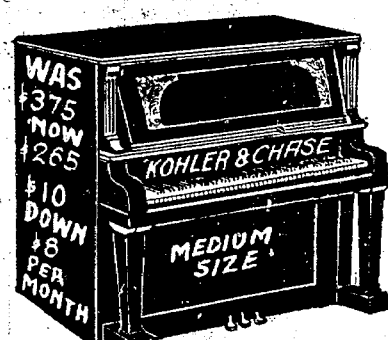

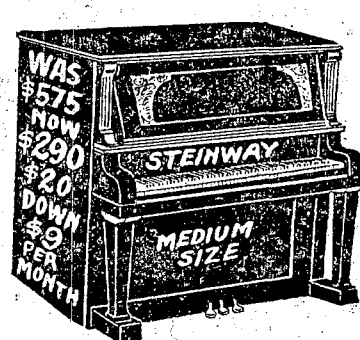

Insurrectos took charge of the principal places of business. Col. Garibaldi and his men destroyed all the liquor they could find.

100 Federal Wounded

Dr. Zuniga, in charge of the federal hospital for the last three days, said that he had treated over 100 federal wounded, 20 of whom may die. Around the custom house, church and jail, between thirty-five and forty federal dead, he said, were lying in the streets.

Physicians Ask Taft to Establish Red Cross Hospital

EL PASO, Tex., May 10.—Five physicians of this city have telegraphed President Taft for an appropriation to establish a Red Cross hospital for the insurrecto and federal wounded soldiers, also to take care of people who have been hurt by bullets from the other side of the international border.

Fear Americans in Mexico Have Been Murdered

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Local representatives of J. B. Heymes, a mining man of this city who has been in Sinaloa attending to his Mexican interests, believes that Heymes and his family have been killed by bandits within the last two weeks.

Heymes, with his wife and two sons, went to Carmen mine, six miles from Loreto some time ago, and for a while kept in daily communication with E. R. Bellow, his agent in this city.

The last letter which Bellow received told of the approach of insurrectos, who were looting the villages and destroying railroads. In this dispatch, Heymes said: "The rebels are close to us now. So far they have not molested us. Fearing trouble, I shall take my family to Culiacan."

California on a mining enterprise. They are J. D. Royce, Walter Amstutz, Dr. G. A. Broughton and Assemblyman Richard Melrose, all well known in Los Angeles.

Nothing has been heard from the missing men for nearly three weeks, and it is feared that they have met with disaster.

American Exodus From the City of Mexico Is Now On MEXICO CITY, May 10.—Notwithstanding the success attending the efforts of the rebels in Juarez, the loyalists in the capital appeared confident this morning of ultimate federal supremacy.

Every train leaving the city for a week has taken American women and children back to the United States and steamboat passage from Vera Cruz has been engaged for the next three weeks.

The feeling against Americans exists almost solely among the students, clerks and the upper classes and this feeling is attributed to the fact that Americans control most of the big enterprises of the country and that the most important offices in these concerns are filled by Americans.

The student outbreak of last fall furnished examples of what Amer-cans might expect in the event of intervention, though the demonstrations would be on a larger and more serious scale.

Federals Trapped by the Insurrectos and 56 Killed

LAREDO, Tex., May 10.—Reliable information that 56 federals were killed at Saltillo yesterday in a fight with insurrectos was brought here today by a railway conductor who was an eye witness of the battle. The federals were drawn into a trap.

The slaughter occurred at a cotton mill in the eastern part of Saltillo where a company of sixty federals had sought shelter during a rebel attack. The insurrectos, who appeared to be about equal in number, kept up an incessant fire on the mill from all sides, lasting from 8:30 in the morning until 3 in the afternoon. Then they made a feint of retreating and the federals rushed after them to attack their rear.

It was only a decoy force that retreated. As the federals stepped clear of the mill they were flanked by a band of rebels and shot down almost at will. Only four of the federals escaped.

Reports from Concepcion del Oro today tend to confirm last night's dispatches that insurrectos had completely annihilated a force of federals at that place. No accurate statement as to casualties was available, but estimates of 50 to 60 dead or desperately wounded were made by incoming railway passengers.

Federal Garrison Quits Agua Prieta and Marches Away

DOUGLAS, Ariz., May 10.—Agua Prieta, the Mexican port across the border from Douglas, which was recaptured from the insurrectos April 17, after an eighteen hours' battle, was abandoned today by its federal garrison. The federal force moved out of the town at an early hour, traveling in the direction of Hermosillo.

All federal offices in the port have been closed and abandoned, the postoffice and customs house being vacated. As the orders for the evacuation were duplicated to Naco, many American mining camps will have to close down through the suspension of customs service.

REBELS IN PATH.

Between Agua Prieta and Hermosillo a large rebel force is concentrated and it is unlikely that Colonel Reynaldo Diaz and Major Luis Medina Barron and their forces will be able to reach the capital without a battle. Hermosillo is surrounded by a large band of rebels, including 800 Yaqui Indians armed with Mauser rifles.

The Agua Prieta garrison worked until a late hour last night constructing new entrenchments. Toward dawn the soldiers began to undo this work, filling not only the new trenches, but the old ones left by the insurrectos. The adobe breastworks were leveled to the ground and the blockhouse south of the bull ring was battered into kindling. Trenching tools were piled in heaps and burned, and, leaving not a man behind, the garrison began the evacuation at dawn.

It is declared at the rebel junta here that the federal force has done exactly what the insurrecto chiefs were employing strategy to accomplish.

HOPE TO TRAP FEDERALS.

Every rebel force has crossed over the Naco valley from the east to the west and yesterday they were concentrating in the hope that the federal army would evacuate Agua Prieta and march to the relief of Cananea. According to a rebel informant the plan was to draw Colonel Diaz into the mountain pass between Cananea and Agua Prieta and there engage him with the overwhelming advantage on their side.

Awaiting federals in the mountain pass about thirteen miles west of Agua Prieta are the commands of Juan Antonio Garcia, Juan Cabral, Frank Langston and a few scattering bands, numbering not less than 1800 men. The federal force which left Agua Prieta numbers less than 600 men, with three machine guns.

MINES MUST SHUT DOWN.

It is believed that the Moctezuma Copper Company and the Phelps-Dodge corporation operating the Pinos mine and concentrator at Nacoart will have to suspend operations as there is now no port for export. Shipments averaging 400 cars of concentrates a month have been sent to the smelter at Douglas. All other mines in Central Sonora are likewise affected, including the Minneapolis Copper Co., of Minneapolis, the Transvaal Copper Co., of Cincinnati, the Monte Cristo of Duluth, the Antigua and Temblor of New York, Las Chispas of the Swiss-Pedrazzini Co., and a hundred others.

It is the belief here that the Mexican government, hard pressed at many points is making a last effort to concentrate its dwindling forces for a stand at Hermosillo and perhaps even for a march southward to protect Mexico city itself. From all indications, the entire State of Sonora will soon be in the hands of the rebels.

'Nonsense!' Says Colonel, 'Not to Hunt Bears'

NEW YORK, May 10.—"Nonsense!" was Col. Roosevelt's brief response by telegraph today to an inquiry as to whether he intended to spend the summer of 1912—presidential year—in hunting polar bears in the Arctic with Capt. Robert Bartlett, late with the Peary polar expedition.

Capt. Bartlett announced last night that he had secured a tentative acceptance from the colonel to join the expedition.

LION BARS EXIT; & DIE IN FIRE

Bodies Are Recovered From the Ruins of Music Hall in Scotland

'Lafayette, the Great,' Perishes in Vain Effort to Save Horse and Dog

EDINBURGH, Scotland, May 10.—With a trained lion, made savage by the sight and sound of flames, blocking the stage exit and threatening with death any who approached, eight persons were held on the stage of the Empire Music hall, which burned last night, until they perished in the fire. Eight bodies were recovered this morning from the ruins. The bodies so far identified are those of "Lafayette, the Great," and four members of his company, Alice Dale, who impersonated the "Teddy Bear" midget, Joe Coster and two musicians. The lion belonged to Lafayette. It got loose during the panic and blocked the stage door through which the performers attempted to escape. Lafayette had a desperate struggle with the beast before he got him out of the way, but it was too late for all to escape. Miss Dale and Coster were natives of England. Lafayette was a German. He had played for twenty years in the United States, but for the last two years had been in Great Britain, presenting a spectacular "turn" which introduced a horse and dog. An attempt to rescue these pets cost the performer his life.

SACRIFICES LIFE.

Lafayette had escaped at the first alarm, but later rushed back through the stage door, saying as he did so: "I am going to try to get my horse and dog." When the ruins were examined today the actor's charred body was found beside the body of his horse under a heavy timber that lay across both. The fire started in a mass of scenery used in the conclusion of Lafayette's performance, which was a spectacular pageant. In a moment the stage was filled with flames.

AUDIENCE SAFE.

The iron fire curtain was lowered hastily and the audience, which at first thought that the burst of fire was a part of the spectacle, escaped with little panic. Those behind the scenes made a mad rush for the exits. When the fire was at its height the iron curtain fell in on the stage. The theater was to have been the scene of the first music hall performance ever given in the country by royal command during King George's visit in July. "Lafayette the Great" was born Sigmond Neuberger. Ten years ago the courts legalized his stage name. He was about 40 years of age and is well remembered in New York. His devotion to his trained dog was marked. The dog had a trained lion, which, with the dog and horse, was always included in his act.

Engineers Run True to S.P. Co.'s Card Schedule

Thirty-Three Hundred Trains Pass Through Oakland on Time in Seven Days.

Thirty-four hundred trains operated from this side of the bay by the Southern Pacific during the week ending April 29 complied so closely to time-card schedule that only one train in that period missed the proper boat connection. Such is the record that has caused satisfaction to the passenger and operating department of the road. Figures on the train service operating in connection with the ferry service were obtained by E. E. Wade, assistant general passenger agent, who believed the perfection of the service to be something unusual and who desired to know for certain just how perfect the service is. The figures surprised him, he says, for it means that approximately 600 trains each day arrive and depart exactly on time.

Place Bean Pot Under "Bridge of Sighs"

Receptacle Contains White Powder Said to Be "Magic Cure for Consumption."

NEW YORK, May 10.—A suspected attempt to destroy the Tombs prison by a bomb was frustrated late last night by a court interpreter, who caused the sudden arrest of an Italian youth and an old woman companion when he saw them placing a small round object under the famous "Bridge of Sighs" which connects the prison with the courts building adjoining. The interpreter overheard the old woman whisper in Italian, "Yes, place it there against the prison wall, where it will do most good." The youth did as he was told and the two slunk off down a dark alley. One interpreter sent a policeman post haste after them, while he grabbed the "bomb" and threw it into a puddle of water. The bomb, which was a small brown bean pot filled with a white powder which the aged woman prisoner said was a "magic cure for consumption."

The New Officials of the City of Oakland Who Were Chosen at the Election Yesterday. They Will Go Into Office on July 1 Next and Are the First Officials to Serve Under the New Charter.

SOCIALISTS FAIL TO ELECT ANY CANDIDATE

from the various wards and precincts which were at length re-assuring.

Majority Given Mott

There were no friends of the mayor who really expected that his honor would be returned to the office by an overwhelming majority, the consensus of opinion being that he would win by about 1500 or 2000 votes. The latter estimate was the more correct for the reason that his honor's majority was within a few of 1900 votes. This is generally considered a substantial victory and has caused rejoicing in all sections where the voters were not inspired by party fealty or prejudice or personal animosity to vote against re-election of the mayor.

How the Vote Was Cast

Notwithstanding that the charter which has recently gone into effect in this city is supposed to obliterate ward lines in ascertaining the result of political elections, at the same time, it is allowable to note the manner in which the candidates stood in the sections of the city formerly denominated wards. A study of the figures of those divisions of the city shows that Mayor Mott carried every ward in Oakland with the exception of the Seventh, in which he was defeated by only 500 votes. These votes, however, came from the annexed district, which is the stronghold of the socialistic party in this city. The old section of the Seventh ward, that is, the Seventh ward that was before the annexation, gave him a liberal majority.

This majority stood for him against the Socialistic vote, which was inspired solely by the desire to elect a member of that political organization rather than to show antagonism against the candidate of any other party. Mayor Mott's vote yesterday was 11,722 and this was in excess of the vote received by him at the primary by 2781. His vote yesterday in the Seventh ward was 3585 as against 2293 at the primary, an increase in favor of the election of yesterday of 1292.

Anderson's Hard Fight

The other interesting features of yesterday's election were the fight between Harry S. Anderson and City Treasurer Edwin Meese for the position of Commissioner No. 1, that of John Forrest and P. C. Frederickson for the position of Commissioner No. 4 and that

The other interesting features of yesterday's election were the fight between Harry S. Anderson and City Treasurer Edwin Meese for the position of Commissioner No. 1, that of John Forrest and P. C. Frederickson for the position of Commissioner No. 4 and that his lead yesterday was reduced a few votes to 445. This was the second highest majority achieved in the election. The third highest majority was achieved by Councilman William J. Bacus for the position of commissioner No. 2, which was 4055, his defeated opponent being A. Hunse, the Socialist of the annexed district. Bacus' vote was 12,365, and that of Hunse was only 8310. It was generally understood that Bacus would win without effort, and for that reason he did not put forth the effort which he would have otherwise made. He carried every ward in the city with the exception of the Seventh, which fell to the luck of Hunse by a majority of only seven votes. Hunse's strength in that section is due to his affiliation with the Socialists, whose stronghold is located in that ward, but even with that handicap, Bacus succeeded in downing his opponent in his own abiding place.

THE SCHOOL DIRECTORS.

The fight for school directors was uneventful because all the progressive candidates were elected by majorities ranging from 2212 for Bronner to 5514 for Annie Florence Brown, whose opponent was H. C. Tuck, the editor of the Socialist paper which is published in this city. The majorities of the other candidates for school director were as follows: all the defeated candidates being Socialists: Kelly over Barney, 4013; Cook over Gilbert, 3516; Orr over Radtke, 3654; Boyle over Strobach, 1832. The new charter goes into effect on the first of next July, but there will not be a Socialist connected with it in any official position.

as it was proposed to leave the district in the extreme eastern part of the city.

FORREST IS DISAPPOINTED.

Frederickson polled a good vote in all the wards of the city, but especially in the seventh, where he defeated Forrest by a vote of 3515 to 2753. Forrest expected to be given a rousing majority for the reason that it was stated that over fifty labor organizations had endorsed his candidacy and that he was to receive the Socialist vote among the employees in the Southern Pacific shops and yards because of his union labor proclivities. Regardless of this fact, his majority over the man from the annexed district was only a few votes over 500. The total vote for Frederickson was 10,027 and for Forrest 10,577. Frederickson has been congratulated all over the city, both for the principle which he espoused, the consistent manner in which he conducted his campaign and the excellent run he made against the odds enjoyed by his opponent.

RUN MADE BY STACHLER.

The run which Stachler made for the commissioner No. 3, as against City Engineer Turner, was one of the surprises of the contest. At the primary, Turner received a total of 5461 votes, while Stachler polled only 2732. Turner leading him by 779 votes. Yesterday, Turner defeated his opponent by 931 votes, having received a total of 10,491 and Stachler 9510. The latter was handicapped at times by statements which were put in circulation to the effect that he intended to retire from the campaign. How those stories got into circulation he does not know, but he was compelled, at times, to deny their authenticity, through the press. Some persons heard the story, however, who did not read the denial, and as a consequence, the councilman's friends believe that it was in that manner that he lost a number of votes. Turner has been long in public life and has many friends and these facts, no doubt, enabled him to retain the greater part of the prestige which he gained at the primary.

GROSS HAS WALKOVER.

For the position of auditor, George E. Gross had a walkover, as it was predicted. He was first announced for the position of auditor. There was no opposition in the city, save a merchant of the Socialist party, who felt like opposing him, because everybody knew there was no chance of defeating the man who has filled the auditor's office of this city so acceptably for a number of years. At the same time, Gross' majority at the primary over Vincent was 4804, while

The Municipal Election.

All ballot legislation in California in recent years has been directed toward the elimination of party action in choosing candidates for office, and party organization in conducting campaigns. Party conventions are forbidden to nominate and party designations are not permitted to appear on the ballot. The municipal charters of Oakland, Berkeley and Los Angeles were framed with the avowed purpose of eliminating party action from municipal politics.

It is frankly stated that the object of this legislation is the breaking up of party machines. To that extent it has succeeded, but on the other hand it has built up personal machines and office-holding combines. The Oakland city election is a striking evidence of this fact. The boss and the patronage broker are still with us in all their power and glory, unrestrained by party control and organization. A machine of office-holders has taken the place of the party machine. The taxeaters have formed a compact organization and are arrayed like a Pretorian guard against the disorganized taxpayers. This machine is dominated and directed by a boss whose power rests upon his ability to control the distribution of patronage—to nominate policemen, firemen and other employees of the city government.

Thus the party machine has been superseded by the personal machine and party organization by the office-holders' combine. The boss is at the head of the personal machine. In this election the boss and his machine were in open and undisguised alliance with the office-holders' combine. Naturally every public service corporation was behind the coalition. That it was successful at the polls is not to be wondered at. That it came so near being defeated horse, foot and artillery is the marvel.

In the primary campaign a multitude of candidates offered themselves for the several offices to be filled. The boss and the city hall machine centered all their strength on individual candidates for each office. It was easy to qualify them in each instance. Public work that had been postponed for many months was resumed with redoubled activity, a proceeding that gave the city hall machine a considerable accession of voting strength at the general election. In a sense the taxes paid for public improvements became a campaign fund for the boss and the taxeaters' machine. To this consummation have we come in the pursuit of rainbow ideals of good government.

It is gratifying that there is so little to lament in the outcome. Oakland has been well governed for some years past, and we have no fear that the municipal government will deteriorate in character and efficiency. The progressive movement inaugurated during Mayor Mott's first administration will not be halted, but will go on along the lines which have been approved by the electorate at the polls. Mr. Mott was the logical candidate to succeed himself and carry out the scheme of public improvement projected under his direction. It would have been a serious setback to the city to have placed a Socialist, however sincere and worthy, at the head of the municipal government. The alternative made Mott's re-election a necessity.

But let us not blink the facts. The result of the election is a victory for machine politics, a triumph for bossism and the use of official patronage to perpetuate political control. It now remains with those in charge of our civic destinies to justify by their acts in office the means by which their election was secured. It is not now a question of political methods, but one of official conduct. Here we are upon safe ground. We can afford to overlook the stepping stones if the municipal government be kept true to its mission and to a past that merits approval. THE TRIBUNE is confident that Frank K. Mott will round out his career as Mayor of the city with a performance honorable to himself and highly beneficial to the best interests of Oakland.

Hon. Everis A. Hayes, the Red Mahatma of Edendale, otherwise known to the irreverent and obscene enemies of good government in the San Jose district as "the ghost walk," voted against reciprocity with Canada after announcing that he favored it. Mr. Hayes voted against the Payne-Aldrich tariff law on the ground that he wanted the tariff revised downward. When he ascertained that prunes were not produced in Canada he announced himself in favor of the reciprocity agreement. But somebody whispered to him that there were iron mines in Canada and that the reciprocal agreement permitted the importation of Canadian iron ore free of duty, he changed his mind. Mr. Hayes owns iron mines in the Lake Superior region. So reciprocity became a personal issue with him. The tariff on iron ore has a magnetic interest for the Red Mahatma; in that particular he is in favor of protecting home industry. Let no one hereafter say that Hon. Everis A. Hayes does not know on which side his bread is buttered.

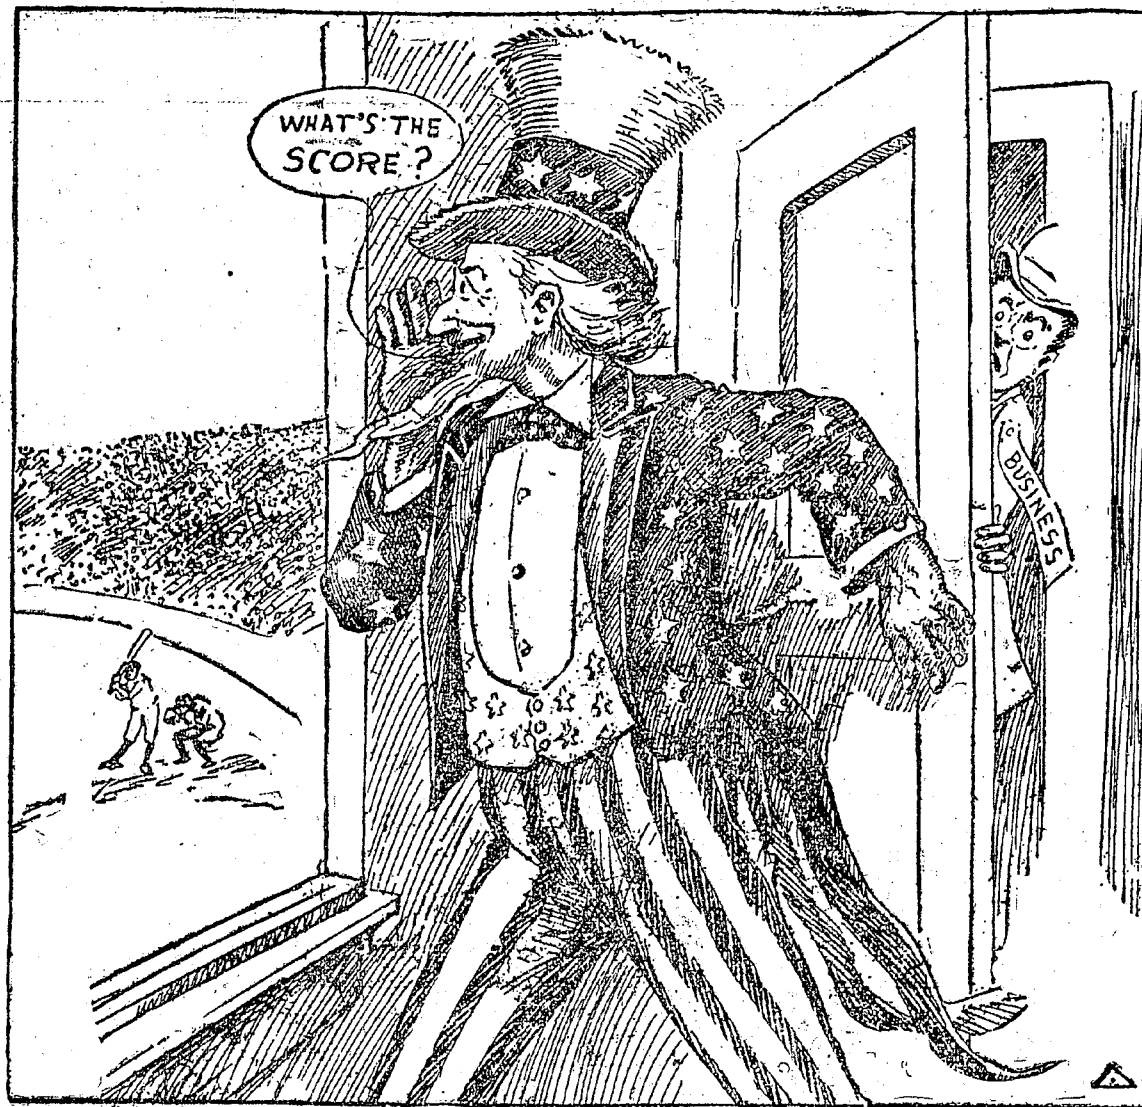

The Council took a long stride toward a safe and sane Fourth of July celebration by passing an ordinance prohibiting the sale or discharge within the city of any form of fireworks. The Board of Fire Underwriters have given assurances that the passage of the ordinance and the full equipment of the salt water system will result in a material reduction of insurance rates. The ordinance puts an end, prospectively, to the tremendous loss of property annually through Fourth of July fires. It will also cut a big figure in the reduction of wear and tear on the equipment of the fire department, besides relieving the firemen of the constant anxiety and distress which has always accompanied the frequency of fire alarms turned in on the national holiday. The passage and enforcement of the ordinance will, therefore, be a good thing all round.

Of the thirty thousand colonists who entered the State, over the Union and Southern Pacific lines during the four weeks in March and April when the colonist rates were in force, most of them seem to have settled in the northern part of the Sacramento valley. As a result, reports of unusual building activity are coming in from Dunsmuir, Anderson, Red Bluff, Corning, Willows, Gridley, Marysville and other valley towns. The new buildings are chiefly dwellings for the recently arrived colonists who have also bought hundreds of small parcels of gardening and horticultural lands in the large tracts formerly existing in the valley which have been subdivided to meet the wants of the colonist class of settlers.

The federal authorities now confess that they cannot prevent opium smuggling from Mexico in the waters of Southern California. They are not much better off, if any, in San Francisco bay, where the illicit industry thrives more luxuriantly the more seizures of the drug are made.

The extension of the boulevard from Hayward to Dublin, which has been made possible by an act passed at the last session of the Legislature authorizing the transfer of money from the general fund to the road fund, will make an important addition to Alameda county's network of good roads. Better still, it will dovetail the boulevards of Alameda county into the State highway system.

SAME OLD NATIONAL QUESTION

—LOS ANGELES TIMES

Taft's Military Policy Vindicated.

Recent events in Mexico have fully justified the mobilization of a large portion of the American army on the frontier. The President was sharply criticized when the order to mobilize the troops was first made known, but subsequent developments silenced criticism. All the world now knows that assembling a large military force on the frontier was a wise precaution. We understand now that the President acted on private information which he could not afford to make public at the time.

But for the presence of a large body of United States troops near the border there would have undoubtedly been a heavy loss of life and property in the towns on the American side of the frontier. The fighting at Douglas, Agua Prieta, Juarez and Casas Grandes is proof of this fact. It was evidently the aim of the insurgents to capture the principal points on the American frontier, apparently for two reasons, namely, to keep the way open for supplies for themselves and to cut the Diaz government off from direct connection with the government at Washington. The insurgents knew that the Diaz government would be held responsible for any injuries inflicted on the person or property of American citizens, or the persons and property of other foreigners residing in Mexico. Hence they decided to force the fighting at points most distant from the capital, that they might seize control of all land avenues leading from the United States to Mexico.

Only the military force ordered to the frontier by President Taft saved the American towns on the frontier from destructive bombardment and perhaps armed occupation. The firm attitude of our government, coupled with the presence of an effective military force, averted many outrages. The lives and property of American citizens in Mexico were made safer by the cannons and bayonets arrayed on the northern bank of the Rio Grande. Our diplomatic relations have also been preserved and the laws of neutrality enforced.

We owe this to the wisdom of President Taft. Because he acted promptly and firmly, our territory has been protected and grave complications which would have entangled the United States in the revolutionary movement in Mexico averted.

It may become necessary for the United States to intervene for the security of foreigners, including Americans, residing or having interests in Mexico, and if such a necessity should arise there are forces on the frontier available for the purpose. It is to be hoped that no such necessity will arise, but its probability is now being widely discussed, both in Europe and America. It is pertinent, therefore, to examine the situation and note the position our government would occupy today had the troops not been mobilized on the frontier at an early stage of the insurrection. The presence of the troops has lessened the necessity for intervention in the first place and has placed the United States in a position to make intervention, should it become necessary, promptly effective in the second.

Thus the wisdom of the President is signally vindicated. Even his critics concede that he did the proper thing. He has acted with a view to observing the principles of international comity and to protecting the American side of the frontier from spoliation and bloodshed, and in doing so has given another evidence of his broad statesmanship.

Let us hope that government by commission will not mean government by a boss. It does not necessarily mean that, and we trust it will not be permitted to become that in Oakland.

The floral festival will help Berkeley to forget that it had a non-progressive spasm on bond election day.

UMBRELLAS WITH WINDOWS

An umbrella with windows is the latest novelty in Paris, and we are told that it comes from London. The reason for the innovation is, we learn, the difficulty of getting about on account of the dangers caused by traffic, especially in wet weather. Although the umbrella seems a novelty it is not exactly new. The manufacturers give a little history of the invention. It seems that the first parapluie a fenetre made its appearance in London half a century ago. A Russian noble, Prince Potemkin, was walking one day in London with his tutor. It was raining, and a mad dog rushed at them. Owing to the umbrella they did not notice the animal's approach. The tutor was terribly bitten, and a little time afterward he died in great agony. The Prince was so impressed with the danger of the ordinary umbrella that he invented the parapluie a fenetre. Of what the "windows" consisted we are left in doubt, but the faithful chronicler tells us that the Prince always carried his safety umbrella and created a great sensation throughout Europe.

MEN AND WOMEN

The hero of feminine fiction is a clod, a thing stuffed with straw. It is the business and profession of a hero to come into accidents; his occupation is to tumble off his horse; he needs "womanly care and compassion." He goes over cliffs; he is sand-bagged; he runs a hook into his "poor hand" while fraudulently pretending to fish, and he "almost faints." Awakened out of a "swoon" by the application of cold water, he sees a face whose "beauty is graven forever on the tablets of his memory." He says, "For pity's sake let me in." ... A face was pressed against the windowpane ... ghastly, pallid, with white lips and eyes that gazed in unseeing fashion. In fact, there had been a fall of snow. She chafes his "half-frozen fingers. He was helpless as a babe."

Then there is the wretch and the brute. His wife is a "deeply wronged woman." The brute has "a retreating chin." But ... there is no hint of weakness about his sister, albeit she was altogether sweet and womanly. "Often there are men with green eyes, with 'dark olive faces,' and a cigar. The brute 'grinds his teeth.' 'His evil passions were thoroughly aroused; they swept his soul like a blasting flame.' The wretch is greedy, and when you write of him, the feminine language runs naturally into terms of eating and metaphors of gross gluttony. 'He kept his eyes on the half-drawn like a chained wolf on meat beyond his reach.'"

Burglary is venial, and so is blood-letting. There are viler things against the brute, and dark matters which cannot be explained by retreating to South America or taking "a solemn oath." "Against my guardian's wish ... almost in defiance of her authority ... I married the man I loved. He proved to be a gambler ... and worse! This degraded person, in fact, swore at his wife; and was generally 'a most determined, unscrupulous man.' He dies in Chapter Twenty-eight. And wasn't he 'horrid'!" —London Saturday Review.

New York's Fireboat

In the marine division of the fire department there are ten fireboats, which are stationed at various points around Manhattan Island, along the Brooklyn waterfront and one of them at Staten Island. These boats keep steam up all the time, ready to go out instantly when called.

Of course, to keep steam up the boats have to burn coal, and once a week each boat leaves its station to coal. Each boat has its appointed day and time for coaling, which might be varied somewhat by tide or other circumstances. When a boat's time for coaling comes she calls division headquarters by telephone and if there's no reason to the contrary, she gets orders to go. At the same time headquarters notifies all other fireboats that the boat is coaling, and each fireboat commander knows precisely what additional waterfront he now has to cover. In due time the boat returns, and the first thing she does after she gets a line ashore is to telephone headquarters that she's back on her station. This line is instantly communicated from division headquarters to all other commanders. Then at her appointed time another boat goes to coal, and so they keep going, one after another, one at a time through the week, always keeping coal in their bunkers and always keeping up steam, ready at any minute to cast off and start at the stroke of the gong. —New York Sun.

TRULY SPOKEN.

How often the student, facing a difficult examination paper for which he is not thoroughly prepared, "just guesses." Sometimes he hits it right; oftener, whatever the plausibility of his effort, he fails, as the boy did of whom Punch tells. During the term instruction had been given as to the visit of the Dutch fleet to the Medway. In examination the following question was put: "Explain the context of the passage. 'This would never have happened if Oliver had been alive.'"

One answer was as follows: "This was said when they dug up the body of Oliver Cromwell after the Restoration." —Punch.

NEW NATIONAL SONG

Every now and then the irrepressible craving for a new national song breaks out somewhere; this time the eruption is observed in Chicago. The public school board of that city has taken up the plan, but there can be no doubt that the real credit for the idea belongs to some little child, for out of the mouths of such we may reasonably hope for perfected praise.

The school board is announced as undertaking to collect contributions of 1 cent each from the 300,000 school children of Chicago toward a money prize to be awarded to the successful competitor in a contest to "supply" a new national song. The children evidently feel keenly the demand for it. Now, if each one of these dear children will contribute his and her cent the sum of $3,000 (as the children themselves can compute) will be raised for this noble purpose—a sum quite large enough to stimulate the patriotic song writers to really heroic efforts. It is fitting that the largest pecuniary reward ever paid for a deathless lyric of patriotism should come out of Chicago, for nowhere in all this broad land where physical size is fully appreciated and where patriotism is the breath of everybody's nostrils, nowhere than in Chicago will this suggestion have a stronger appeal. It quickens the blood even to think of it!

A new national song, of course, will be a hymn of new nationalism, strong, thrilling, uplifting and mounting like the lark to heaven's high gates. What more natural, inevitable, than that such a song should be written, not by an adult poet with an overdone butcher's bill or with a soul bruised by knowledge of a brutal world, but by a child poet—by some glad young creature fresh from the hand of God, some gifted boy with a Miltonian turn of mind—there must be plenty of 'em in the public schools of Chicago. Such a lyricist would be able to clothe the spirit and essence of the new nationalism in lines of living light and make a new national song which would be worth fully $3000 in any market.—New York Sun.

SOME 'DIME' NOVELS

Mount Vernon, Ill., reports the case of a youth of 16, who has confessed that he became a thief as a result of reading "dime" novels.

The statement has a strangely archaic sound, recalling the warnings of many years ago, when the dime novel was easily recognizable by the fact that it was made to sell for ten cents.

The time was when careful adults placed some credence in the dime novel theory in its relation to the penitentiary and gallows. But it will be conceded by fair-minded people today that the dime novel must always have been a good deal of a myth.

If we are prepared to admit that the species of fiction referred to ever had any power for evil, we must be living today in an utterly abandoned age. For the dime novel has been glorified in form, without undergoing any change at all in substance. It is made into a handsome book today, selling for $1.50, and containing illustrations by the best artists in America. It comes out in a "jacket" of gold and silver, and looks for all the world like a regular book. People of all sorts and conditions are reading these glorified dime novels. The librarians are in despair because so few volumes, other than the dime novels in their new guise, are in demand.

The reading of dime novels is and always has been a somewhat deplorable habit, since it tends to place the noblest of literature in eclipse. But we do not believe it is making criminals now, nor do we believe it ever has had such an effect, either in Mount Vernon or any other town.—St. Louis Times.

WORD'S WORDS WERE OFFENSIVE

So Also Were His Acts, Wife Says, and So She Had Word to Say to Judge.

Shortly after the marriage of John B. and Rosalie M. Word, according to the testimony upon which the wife was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce this forenoon by Superior Judge Frank B. Ogden, a reception was given in their honor by Mrs. Helen Braus of 1835 San Jose avenue, Alameda, sister of Mrs. Word. The couple were stopping there temporarily. Mrs. Word, who was a resident of the city, was in a dreadfully drunken condition. Mr. Braus worked over him until he got him in presentable condition, but the minute he entered the parlor, the testimony showed, he appeared so different from anything that his friends had been accustomed to see that the whole assembly was shocked. Word would give nobody a chance to say a word. He did all the talking and he talked so offensively at the banquet board that nobody would speak to him. They talked to each other and "Poor Mrs. Word" was the sentence that was bandied among the guests.

"They all realized what a mistake I had made by marrying Mr. Word," the wife told the court. When the Words left Alameda they went to the St. Mark Hotel to reside. They lived there about two months, according to Mrs. Word's testimony, and during that time Word almost daily choked his wife, slapped her face or pinched or otherwise abused her. Once he gave her head a "most vicious and brutal punching."

Finally, the testimony showed, Word developed into an habitual drunkard, and the separation came in May, 1910, just seven months after the marriage, which took place in San Francisco.

Extreme cruelty is the ground upon which Mrs. Word was granted her interlocutory decree. Since leaving her husband she has resided with her sister in the Encinal city.

WIFE SAYS HUBBY BEAT HER MANY, MANY TIMES

On the ground that her husband has brutally beaten and otherwise abused Laura Smith of 1148 Stanford avenue, secured an interlocutory decree of divorce this forenoon in the Superior court from Robert Smith. For the first two years of her married life, which began in August, 1893, Mrs. Smith testified, she was very happy, and then Smith made her suffer continuously from that time on. "Times without number she told the court Smith has knocked her down with his fists."

PLEADS NO GUILTY TO SHIPPING CARTRIDGES

NEW YORK, May 10.—Twenty thousand cartridges shipped from here to El Paso took no part in the battle of Juarez. They were seized by the government and Harvey Phillips, formerly a secret service man, pleaded not guilty today in the United States Circuit court to consigning them to the battle of Juarez, in violation of the interstate commerce law. He was held in $1000 bonds.

NEGOTIATIONS AWAIT ACTION OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Secretary Knox, while ready to enter into negotiations with Newfoundland for a reciprocity arrangement upon lines similar to the measure now pending before Congress, has decided to await the action of Congress on the Canadian bill before proceeding with what would be a useless task in the event that the Canada arrangement failed.

Dr. A. S. Kelly, school director-elect, thanks his friends and the voters for the expression of confidence shown by their loyal support at yesterday's election. The following is published at request of Miss Anne Brown, school director-elect:

"I thank the voters and my friends for the loyal support given me during my campaign. I hope I may fulfill the duties of the office of school director to the satisfaction of the people of the city of Oakland."

"ANNIE FLORENCE BROWN." Eugene Stachler, who was beaten for commissioner No. 3 by F. C. Turner, desires to thank all his friends who voted for him yesterday. He takes defeat good-naturedly and says that he is sure that he did not have more friends to thank.

THOMAS KEARLEY, RETIRED CAPITALIST, IS DEAD

ALAMEDA, May 10.—Thomas H. Kearley, retired capitalist, and for twenty-seven years a resident of Alameda, died at his home, 2049 Lincoln avenue, today. He was 82 years old. Mr. Kearley was a native of Athlone, Ireland, but for many years had been a resident of this country, fifty-five years in California. He was one of the organizers of Company 18, Volunteer Fire Department of San Francisco, and was also a veteran of the Civil War, having served under General Hancock. The deceased was formerly a resident of San Francisco, where he was a member of the real estate firm of Delaney and Kearley. He was also a pioneer resident of the Mission district.

Deceased is survived by a widow, Mrs. Mary Kearley, and by four children, Thomas H., W. H. and M. P. Kearley, and Miss Lily B. Kearley. The funeral will be held on next Friday at 3 o'clock from Fowler's undertaking parlors, followed by cremation.

LOCKED UP AS INSANE; NOW SUED FOR BOARD

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Attorneys for the government institute suit today in the supreme court of the District of Columbia to recover $3200 from Frank Healy, an inmate of the Government Hospital for the Insane, for 935 weeks board at the rate of $3.45 a week. Healy was adjudged insane and sent to the asylum in 1893. He was without funds and has been cared for at public expense since that time. Last Christmas his brother died and left him $200,000. He immediately applied to the doctors for release him from the asylum on the ground that he had been cured. He lost his suit January 13. Healy intends to fight the government's case. He says it's bad enough to be locked up in an insane asylum when he might be enjoying his legacy, but to make him pay for staying there is beyond all human endurance.

CALLS AT HOSPITAL TO SEE HIS OWN STOMACH

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—One of the recent callers at the American Stomach hospital here was B. J. Sykes of Cardston, Alberta, Canada, who wanted to take a look at his own stomach. "I hadn't seen it for a year," said Sykes. "I gave me lots of trouble while I had it, and I had got to get well enough since I once had a personal interest in my stomach, and I wanted to see it in a glass bottle. If I had kept it I would have been dead long ago."

The doctors who removed the organ a year ago five years in months ago told him he had about one chance in a hundred of surviving an operation. He took the chance. Now he enjoys three meals a day.

Out of Town Buyers Write For Price List

By Order of the Trustee

$80,000 Stock of High-Grade Pianos Thrown on Market For a Quick Sale

There are hundreds of prospective piano buyers, that we know of, who have been thinking of buying pianos for years.

They have investigated every special piano offering, every special piano sale in a dozen different stores. They are waiting until the chance comes to get a piano of extraordinary value at a really low price.

This is the class of people we want to see now. Where all other propositions, no matter how liberal, have failed to interest them, we know this Trustee's Sale of the Brown stock will be too tempting to be resisted.

We have been appointed Trustees for the sale of the piano stock of S. A. Brown & Co., widely known piano dealers of Los Angeles

We are selling these pianos for the benefit of manufacturers. We are not hampered by price. "Get the money or good piano contracts, and get it quick," constitutes our only instruction.

It's a pleasure to sell pianos under such conditions. You feel as though you were doing something for people that would earn their lasting gratitude, for every person who buys a piano out of this Brown & Company stock is going to feel grateful to us forever after for making it possible.

As one of our salesmen remarked last Saturday: "If the piano buying public only knew!" We are helpless to tell you what a good piano you can now buy for a small sum of money. You have got to see to understand, you have got to see to believe. Don't make the mistake of believing that this is a sale of cheap pianos. It's the closing out of as fine a stock of pianos as can be found in any store on the Coast. Beautiful grands—splendid player pianos, high-grade uprights in all sizes and styles of cases make it possible for you to get just the instrument you have wanted and you can buy with the assurance that you could not do as well if you were buying direct from the factories in carload lots.

Prices, terms, conditions—all unparalled.

Guaranty the most comprehensive it's possible to write in the English language. Every instrument fully guaranteed for ten years with the privilege of exchanging if in any sense unsatisfactory within two years.

OAKLAND FIREMAN IS DISCHARGED

Claim Is Made That He Was "Doing Politics" at the Polls Yesterday.

Charles L. Lamb, a driver for the Oakland fire department, was summarily discharged from the department by the board of police and fire commissioners this morning because he had been found electioneering when he was ostensibly on duty for sick leave. A few days ago Lamb explained that he had a bad case of water on the knee, and obtained a leave of absence. Yesterday, while making a round of the polls, Mayor Mott found the man near one of the booths boosting for the progressive ticket.

The matter was taken up by City Engineer Turner this morning, who stated that the action of the man was absolutely at variance with the spirit of the new charter and of the law, and moved that he be discharged. The motion was carried.

Just Anderson, the contractor who is excavating for the foundation of the new City Hall, asked for a 60-day extension of time on his contract this morning from the board of public works. This was denied, but in view of the fact that the contractor has been hampered in his work by the encumbrances in the form of old structures on the site, an extension of 30 days was granted. Anderson was severely criticized by Mayor Mott for not making better progress with the work.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Today's session of the fifty-ninth annual convention of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was devoted to lodge business. More than 400 subordinate lodges were represented. OAKLAND TO AID IN RECEPTION

Volunteers to Meet Incoming Delegates for the Sunday-School Convention.

A. U. Brandt of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, of Oakland, W. E. Coffman of the Albany Sunday-school and other workers on this side of the bay attended a meeting last evening at the First Congregational church, San Francisco, of the general reception committee which is preparing to receive 25,000 delegates who are expected to attend the International Sunday-school Convention to be held in San Francisco, June 20-27. Brandt is chairman of the Oakland committee, which will meet incoming delegates on the trains at Port Costa and render all possible assistance up to the time of their arrival at the Oakland pier. It was announced last evening by Rev. Dr. H. H. Bell, of Los Angeles, chairman of the convention committee, that about forty-five special trains would be run and that the detailed itinerary of trains from points as far east as Boston, Mass., and Montgomery, Ala., had already been published. All of these special trains will stop at various points en route, where sub-conventions will be held, addressed by the travelers. The convention in its entirety will thus reach many more people than can be admitted to the Coliseum, in San Francisco, where its sessions will be held, or the Greek Theater, Berkeley, where a Sunday afternoon meeting will be held June 25.

Brandt states that volunteers will be needed for the work of the local reception committee and desires names of church workers who will be able to serve.

CONSTITUTION IS BEING PREPARED

Laws for Adult Bible Classes of the Country Will Soon Be Submitted.

At a meeting last evening at the Young Men's Christian Association building, the committee on constitution of the new Federation of Adult Bible Classes of Alameda county, prepared the final draft of a constitution to be submitted at the public meeting to be held at the same place next Tuesday evening.

At the meeting of adult class members held last week, objection was made to the form of constitution then proposed because no provision was made for nomination of officers, except by a committee appointed by the executive committee and reporting back to the larger committee. This objection, it is said, has now been obviated by a provision for nomination by any member present at the annual meeting.

The committee will meet again this evening to consider nominations for the present year. Among names suggested is that of Professor W. E. Rush of the University of California. Notices are being sent out to superintendents of all evangelical schools in Alameda county, inviting attention to the meeting to be held next Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. All members of adult Bible classes in the county and in Richmond will have a voice and vote. Little over twenty-four hours are expected to be present and make an address.

JURY DISAGREES IN TRIAL OF HOFFSTOT

PITTSBURG, May 10.—The jury in the case of Frank N. Hoffstot of New York, the car manufacturer and banker, tried on charges growing out of the conspiracy to bribe the jury in the trial of the late Senator Joseph R. McKim, was discharged late this afternoon, being unable to reach an agreement. The jury had been out a little over twenty-four hours. Hoffstot will be placed on trial Monday on a charge of bribery. During the trial last ended conspiracy to bribe was the charge.

POMEROY GRANTED DIVORCE DECREE

Says Wife Was Regular Cut-Up and Told Him He Was Too Quiet.

William Edward Pomeroy, advertising agent for the Oakland Orpheum, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce this afternoon in the superior court from Mabel Pomeroy, on the ground of willful desertion. The couple were married in San Francisco in April, 1907, and ceased to live together in January, 1910.

The testimony upon which Pomeroy secured the decree was to the effect that Mrs. Pomeroy preferred to "run around" rather than live quietly with him, as was his wish. When he insisted that unless she remained at home more and did less "gadding about" he would get a divorce, she replied, "Very well, go ahead. The quicker the better. I am tired of living with you, anyway. The life you lead is too quiet for me."

"Then she just got up and left," Pomeroy told the court, "saying she was going to San Francisco." Mrs. Pomeroy was 20 years old when Pomeroy married her, and at that time he had known her but three weeks. In this connection Pomeroy told the court that two weeks after he led his wife to the nuptial altar he realized that he had made a great mistake—that he had married his exact opposite in temperament and habits.

"However," said Pomeroy, "I tried to make the best of a bad bargain. I thought I could do something with her and make something of her, but I couldn't do it." Pomeroy met his wife while he was manager of the Chutes in San Francisco. He told the court that he knew absolutely nothing about her family. "I have never seen any of her folks and don't believe she ever had any. She claimed her mother and sister were dead and that she had a step-sister, but I never saw her. In fact, I never met any body who ever knew her."

HEALTH LECTURE WILL BE GIVEN

Anti-Tuberculosis Society to Conduct Program Friday Night.

The program to be given under the auspices of the Anti-tuberculosis society of Alameda county has been postponed until Friday evening, May 12, at 8 o'clock, at which time the musical and stereopticon entertainment will be rendered by Prof. R. J. Broderick, a former health officer of San Francisco, who will exhibit a large number of exceptional lantern slides. The professor will accompany the exhibition with an interesting discourse referring to the pictures shown. Among the other speakers will be A. A. Denison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

CHURCHES TO UNITE AND EXCHANGE PROPERTY

Baptists and Methodists Are to Confer in Respect to the Mission Schools.

SCATTERED FIELD TO RECEIVE ATTENTION

Subject Discussed Last Evening at Meeting of Three Small Congregations.

Believing that two churches should not occupy a field which is only large enough for one, and that Christian effort and missionary money should be spent as carefully as time and money would be spent in other lines of business, C. M. Gardner, superintendent of the Emmanuel Baptist Sunday School, located in Albany near the Contra Costa county line at a meeting of the Baptist Church Extension Society last evening proposed that negotiations be entered into with the City Church Extension Society of the Methodist Episcopal church looking to a federation of forces on the Albany field and a possible exchange of properties situated near the county line. Under the oversight of Dr. S. D. Hutsiniller, the district superintendent, and Dr. A. J. Hanson, the secretary of the East Bay City Church Extension Society, two Methodist Sunday schools are conducted in the suburbs of Berkeley, the first at the corner of Marin and Stannage streets, Albany, the second on Richmond street in Red, Contra Costa county.

Rev. W. E. Coffman of Berkeley is superintendent of the Albany school and Rev. B. Crook, a minister 80 years of age, of the Rust school. The Baptist school is located at Brighton and Stannage streets, midway between the two Methodist schools. Mr. Gardner, the superintendent of the Baptist school believes that the whole community could be served with great efficiency by two schools instead of three and made the proposal at last evening's meeting that efforts be put forth to secure an amicable division of the field between the two societies, accompanied by an equitable exchange of properties, the Baptists surrendering their chapel and lot in Albany to the Methodists and securing in return the Methodist property on the Contra Costa side of the county line, from which community Gardner's school draws the greater part of its force of workers.

The town of Albany has about 165 families, of whom a considerable number are communicants of St. Ambrose Roman Catholic church, Berkeley, of which the Rev. Robert Sampson is pastor.

The three Protestant schools have a total average attendance of less than 100. Several of the officers and teachers come by car every Sunday morning from Oakland and Berkeley. The Albany Methodist Sunday school draws most of its scholars from Berkeley and has a total enrollment of ninety, with an average attendance of over forty. The Baptists have 30 in attendance, the Rust chapel 20.

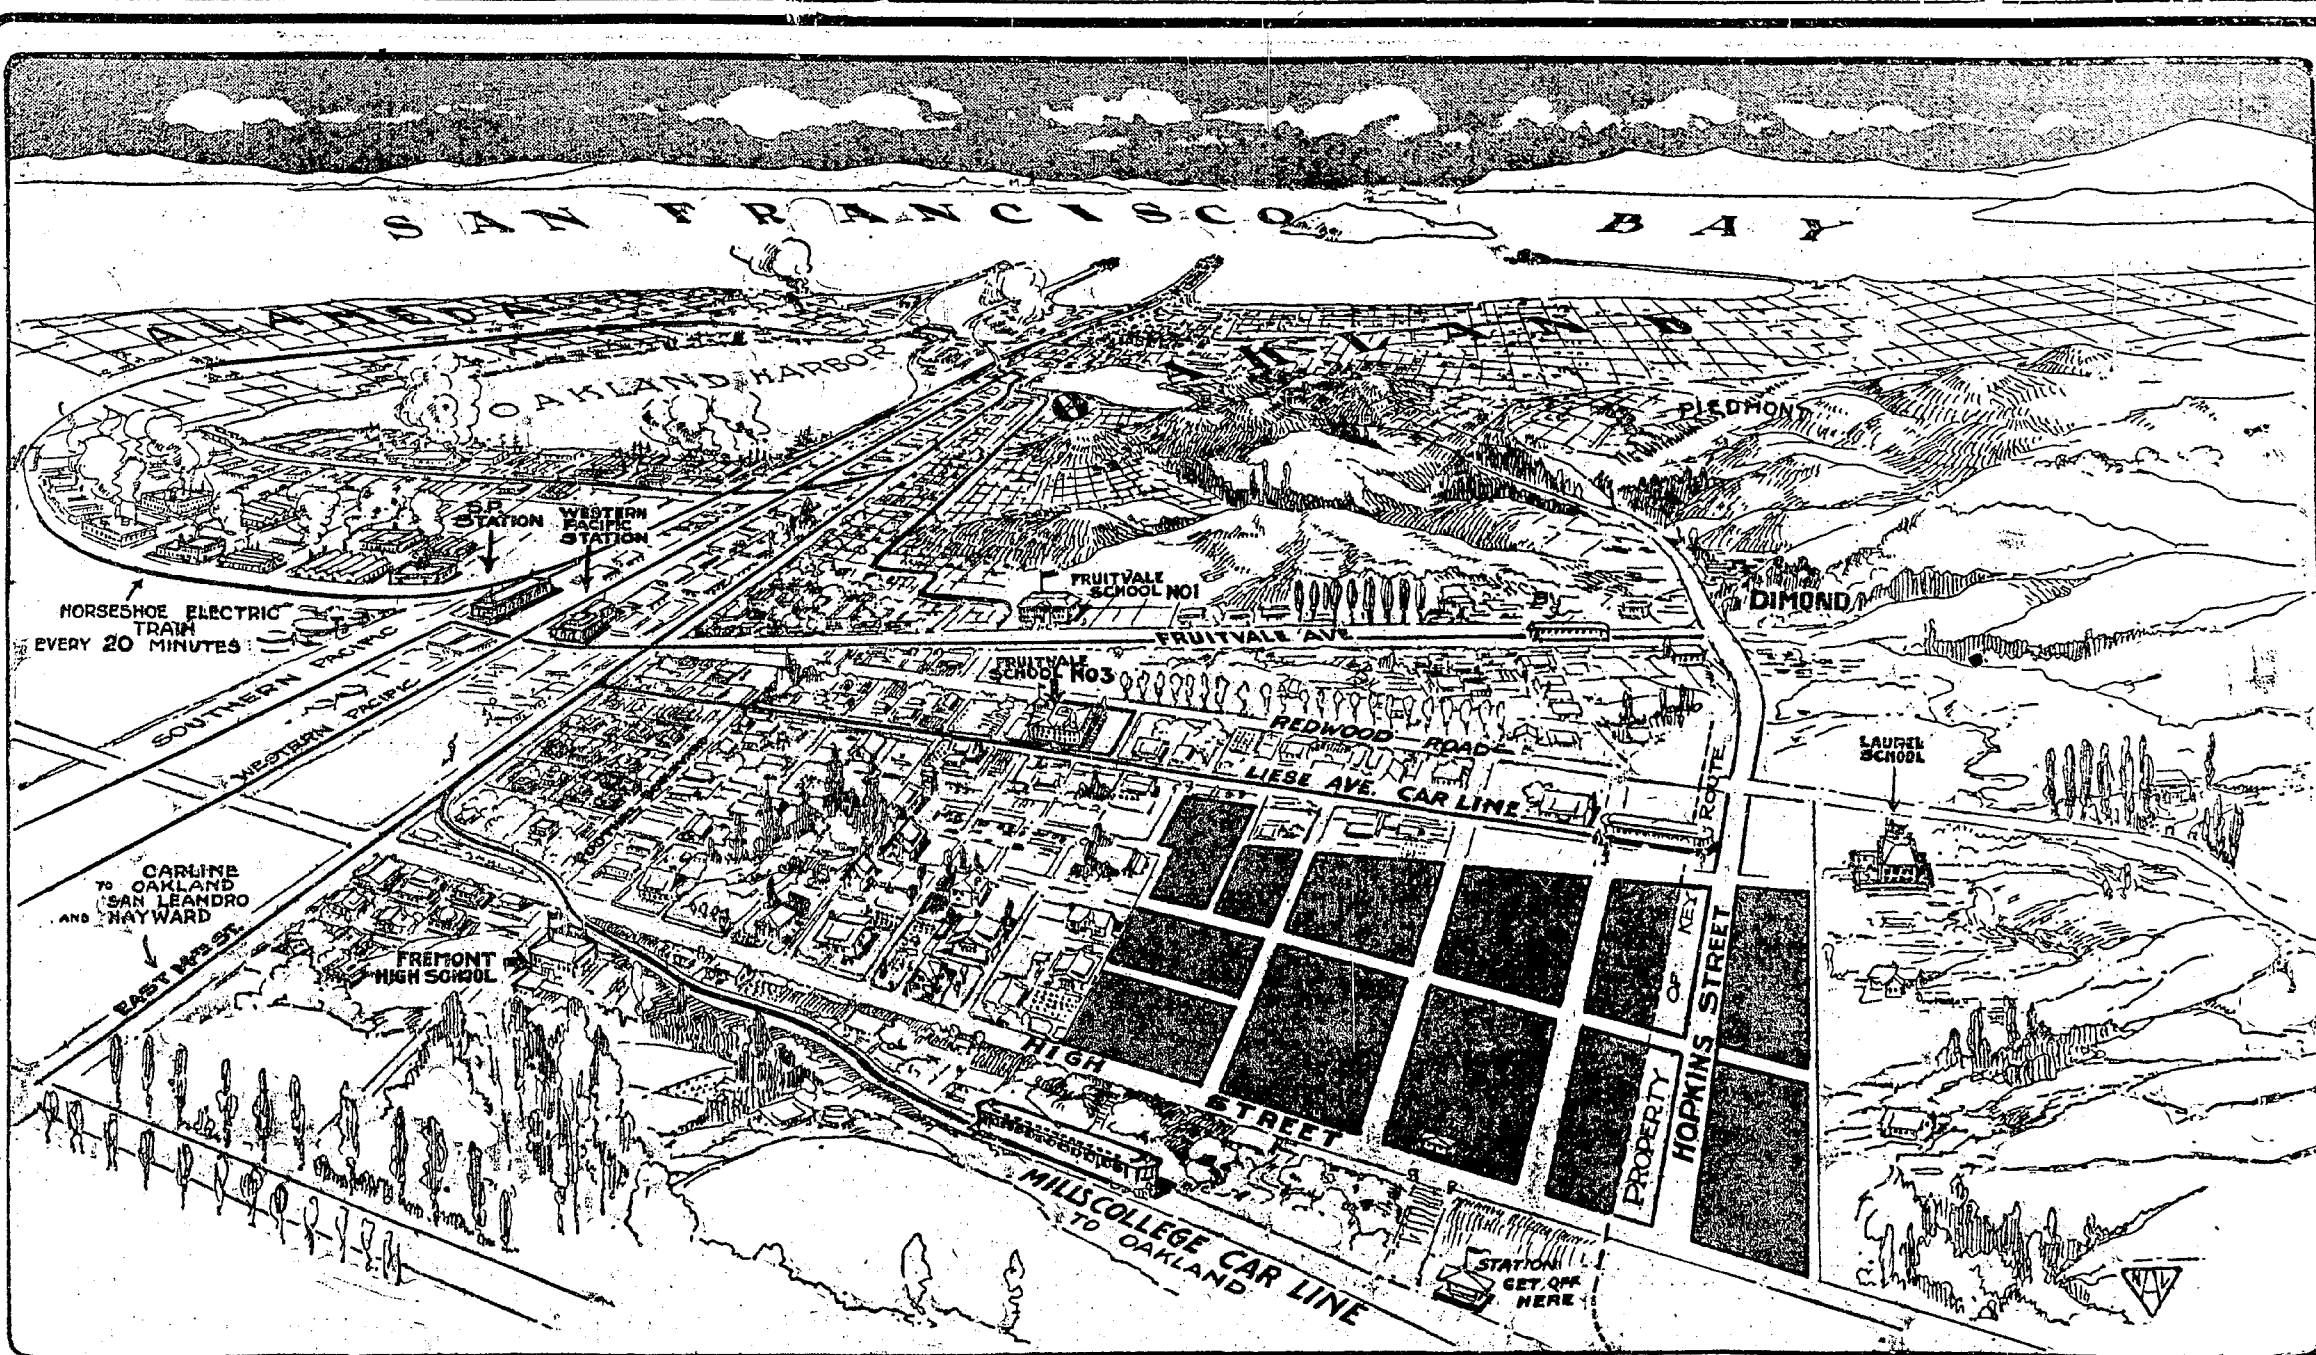

Nothing of an official sort will be done by the Baptists until the return to the city of the Rev. C. H. Clay, the city missionary employed by the denomination. The Board last evening requested that inquiry be made by him as to the possibility of a realignment of forces. Rev. Mr. Clay came to this city from Tacoma last December and left last evening to bring his family to reside here.

Mr. Coffman, superintendent of the Methodist school in Albany and assistant to Dr. A. J. Hanson of the City Church Extension Society, has declared himself in hearty sympathy with any plan which will best advance the common cause in the community by preventing overlapping of fields with resulting duplication of effort, unnecessary expenditure of money and possible conflict in the effort to attract and hold scholars.

Rev. S. F. Russell of the Alameda Baptist Church and Mr. J. P. Forrester, superintendent of the Alameda Methodist Episcopal Sunday school, are the presidents of the two societies which would have to give their approval before any such arrangement as was proposed last night could be carried out. Several Sunday school workers of the two denominations most interested expressed this morning their hearty approval of such a course, which would speak volumes for the progress of Christian unity among the several churches.

One Hundred Million Dollars TO BE DISTRIBUTED IN OAKLAND

An advertisement of intense and vital interest to every man and woman around San Francisco Bay who works for their money. An announcement to doctors, lawyers and professional men who are starting their careers, to skilled workmen, clerks, cashiers, bookkeepers or salesmen—to mechanics, merchants or artisans.

—We said in yesterday's advertisement that Oakland was about to declare a series of dividends that would eventually aggregate one hundred million dollars—

—This money is going to be distributed to the people who buy Oakland real estate NOW.

—At present selling prices the total value of the realty holdings in Oakland is estimated to be about $250,000,000.

—When the shipping of the Pacific begins to some our way

—When the great world's fair begins to attract the attention of foreign nations

—When the Panama Canal is completed

—And our own gigantic harbor improvements are well under way

—Oakland's realty values will take a jump of a hundred million dollars as sure as the sun sets tonight.

—Men and women who buy lots for $500 and $600 are going to be able to sell for $1000 and $1200—

Some men and women with $500 and $600 in bank today and an earning capacity of $100 or $150 a month will make ten, twelve or fifteen thousand dollars before 1915.

Others, who are afraid, or who lack initiative will plod on only to wonder at the good luck of those who had the foresight to invest—

You can get part of this one hundred million dollars if you will take our advice and buy some lots in the Fremont Tract.

Because this will be one of the subdivisions where big money will be made.

The Key Route owns a right of way directly through the property—They've bought the land and paid for it.

The new Foothill boulevard from Lake Merritt along Hopkins street also runs right through this tract—

High street, the greatest cross county highway in Alameda county, fronts the Fremont Tract—

Two car lines, direct to Oakland, transferring to all parts of the county, go within a block upon either side of the property—

Think of it!

Key Route right of way—intersecting of two of the greatest highways in the county—and two car lines—

—You know as well as we do that transportation makes realty values

Can you imagine what these $500 and $600 lots will be worth when Oakland really begins her developments?

Double these opening sale prices would be a conservative figure

But transportation isn't the only element that will be working to advance values in this subdivision faster perhaps than in any other tract

—Its glorious climatic advantages —Its wonderfully fertile soil Its splendid street improvements —And its proximity to schools will also be instrumental in adding to the value as a residential neighborhood—

—To the seeker of a modest home in a good neighborhood

—To the investor, out for profit,

—Or to the contractor who builds cottages to sell we wish to say this

"Investigate the Fremont Tract It is going to be a money maker—Mark our words Who ever buys a lot in this subdivision is going to make a bigger profit than he ever imagined he could ever make out of Real Estate Deal."

We know what we are talking about.

For we know what is to be done.

Voegt, aged 22, also a university student. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the bride's mother and the groom's father, F. W. Immediately after the marriage young Voegt and his father returned to his home and the bride remained with her mother. Mrs. Voegt declined today to explain the after-midnight marriage.

ARRESTED FOR SPOONING WHILE HONEYMOONING

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—Howard William Almsworth of Oakland, who is here with his bride of six weeks on a honeymoon, was arrested at 1 o'clock yesterday morning after a scene in a cafe on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. Almsworth is out on $25 cash bail.

While doing the town late with male friends, he and George Garfield, whom he had never seen before, picked up two young girls and took them to the cafe for a midnight dinner. The attentions which Almsworth tried to thrust upon one of the girls resulted in a quarrel, during which he drew a revolver and threatened both, according to the police. Garfield called the officers and Almsworth was taken to the Central Station.

Garfield was summoned as a witness but left last night for Kansas City, stating that a near relative had just died there. Almsworth, whose bride was formerly Miss Hohlmeier, and whose mother accompanies the couple, was deeply engrossed in a family conference yesterday and declined to discuss the episode.

KILL EX-SHERIFF IN LONG PROGRAM IS MISTAKE FOR GHOUL BY CLUBS

The Effort to Capture Montana Body Snatchers Results in Fatality.

POSSE SEEK MEN WHO ROBBED CONRAD GRAVE

Country to Be Scoured Again for Men After Year of Searching.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., May 10.—In an effort to capture the body snatchers who stole the body of the Conrad baby from the local cemetery over a year ago, the father of the dead baby and his brother last night killed in mistake for one of the grave robbers, Joseph Hamilton, ex-sheriff of Cascade county, who was aiding them.

The body of the year-old baby of Harfield Conrad, the son of W. C. Conrad, one of the wealthiest men in the state, was stolen from its grave a year ago. Last night an effort was made to restore the body. Harfield Conrad would deposit $1500 at a certain spot on the road toward Fort Benton beside a lantern which he would find there.

CALL ON EX-SHERIFF.

The Conrads enlisted Joseph Hamilton, a former sheriff of the county to help them in the work and it was arranged that Harfield Conrad and his brother Arthur should go along the road in their automobile and drop a sack of pretended money as directed. Hamilton was to follow on horseback and watch to see if any one came.

The Conrads saw a light some distance from the road and dropped the sack. About a mile farther they came to a light beside the road, which they realized must be the right place. They decided not to go back for the sack but instead dropped a handkerchief. Going on a mile they turned back and at the spot where they had left the handkerchief, they saw the figure of a man. He threw up his arms and had a gun in his hand.

OFFICIAL IS KILLED.

Thinking that this was one of the body snatchers, and that he was about to fire on them both, the Conrads opened fire. The man dropped. Failing to find Hamilton at the place where they had left the sack it occurred to the Conrads that a terrible mistake had been made. Going back they found Hamilton dead. He was shot through the heart probably by a bullet from the rifle of Arthur Conrad. The body snatchers are undoubtedly in the neighborhood and a general effort will be made to round them up as soon as daylight comes.

She told the hospital surgeon she was dependent.

SALT LAKE, May 10.—Joseph W. Axtell, a hotel fireman, was shot and killed last evening while trying to stop a thug who had robbed a pawnshop of $6000 worth of diamonds.
The fleeing robber shot E. E. Wellman through the body and F. D. Higenbotham in the leg before he was overpowered by the crowd and turned over to the police. He gave his name as J. J. Morris and his occupation as ranchman.
Wellman is at the hospital and it is thought he is mortally wounded. Axtell is survived by a widow and three children.

In talking about our cigars we not only stick to the truth, but try to say no more than our own customers themselves tell us about our cigars.

For instance, we sell a cigar at five cents called "LA TUNITA" Princessa, which thousands of smokers say is actually a good three-for-a-quarter cigar in quality.

We know this is true because that would be the regular retail price—our five cent price is the wholesale price by the thousand to the jobber for this type of cigar—fifty dollars a thousand, five dollars a hundred.

When you want to try a great five cent cigar ask for the

TESTIMONY CONCLUDED

IN JOHN C. HILL SUIT

Testimony in the suit instituted by John C. Hill to recover $50,000 for services rendered in securing options on stock of the Monterey Gas and Electric Company, was concluded last evening in the auxiliary department of the Superior Court, Judge N. D. Arnot of 24th county presiding. Arguments will be submitted in the form of briefs. Hill's testimony was to the effect that he secured options on 1195 shares of the Monterey corporation's stock out of a total of 12,000 shares for E. R. Healey, defendant in the action, but that the latter changed his mind and refused to take them.

CHILD'S HEAD SOLID MASS OF HUMOR

It Was Awful. Cried Continually. Had to Hold and Watch Him to Keep Him from Scratching. Suffering Was Dreadful.

Had not Used Half a Set of Cuticura Remedies Before Head Was Clear and Free from Eczema.

"I think the Cuticura Remedies are the best remedies for eczema I have ever heard of. My mother had a child who had a rash on his head when it was real young. Doctor called it baby rash. He gave us medicine, but it did no good. In a few days the head was a solid mass, a running sore. It was awful. The child cried continually. We had to hold him and watch him (to keep him) from scratching the sore. His suffering was dreadful. At last we remembered Cuticura Remedies. We got a dollar bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bar of Cuticura Soap. We gave the Resolvent as directed, washed the head with the Cuticura Soap, and applied the Cuticura Ointment. We had not used half before the child's head was clear and free from eczema, and it has never come back again. His head was healthy and he had a beautiful head of hair. I think the Cuticura Ointment very good for the hair. It makes the hair grow and prevents falling hair." (Signed) Mrs. Francis Lund, Plain City, Utah, Sept. 19, 1910.

For more than a generation Cuticura Remedies have afforded the speediest and most economical treatment for skin and scalp troubles. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole props., 139 Columbus Ave., Boston. Mailed free, samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, with 32-p. book.

BOND ELECTION TO BE HELD SOON

Business Men of Richmond Are Elated Over the Victory at the Polls.

RICHMOND, May 10.—Business men here are elated at the spirit of progressiveness shown by the people in casting an advisory vote in favor of a $150,000 bond issue for a municipal wharf and connecting tunnel and one of $75,000 for public parks. The council will call for a primary final election on the two propositions.

The vote of nearly two to one in favor of the projects demonstrated the new pull-together spirit that is doing so much to advance the city. It is bringing the original sections, now merged into a greater Richmond into a close union that is helping everybody and bringing prosperity and growth.

Tunnel and wharf rights secured will be worth thousands to the city in a few years at its present rate of growth. Keen men here see the necessity of Richmond securing some waterfront rights of its own.

GRANDSON SEEKS WILL OF ECCENTRIC JURIST

CALGARY, Alta., May 10.—The loss of the late Judge Travis, the eccentric jurist who died last week, will mean that his grandson, John Barker, may be deprived of practically the entire estate, amounting to $1,000,000. If the will cannot be found, administrators will be appointed and the estate will go to the next of kin.

Judge Travis made the will sometime before death and with the exception of an annuity of $2000 each to his wife and daughter, bequeathed the estate to his grandson, John Barker.

John Barker, grandson, who is twenty years of age and who has attended college in California, is in Calgary now. Barker lives in Santa Barbara. He will leave Thursday night for California. He says it is his impression that the will is in San Diego.

PUPILS REHEARSE PANTOMIME PLAY

Rehearsals for "The Artists' Dream" Under Way at Hayward.

HAYWARD, May 10.—Rehearsals for the pantomime play, "The Artists' Dream," which is to be produced by the members of the glee club of the Hayward High school on the evenings of May 26 and 27 are under way. The students hope to swell the U. C. scholarship fund funds to large proportions with the gate money derived.

This scholarship fund is given each year to the most deserving member of the senior class as an aid to higher education. Last year's recipient of the fund, Manual E. MAKES THE COMPLEXION SOFT AND VELVETY

"My first advice to any woman seeking a charming complexion is to taboo the powder box," says Mae Martyn, a noted authority on beauty culture. "Powder clogs up the pores, enlarges them, making coarse, muddy, blotchy complexions."

"The very best complexion beautifier I have ever used—and it is far superior to powder—is a simple, inexpensive lotion made by dissolving 4 ounces of supurax in one-half pint of water, then adding two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This lotion does not show on the skin nor will it rub off easily as powder does. It makes the skin soft and velvety, leaving it clear and youthful looking."

"No other preparation has so far been discovered to equal this lotion for correcting a shiny, oily, yellow complexion. Every woman should have a bottle of this wonderful lotion on her dressing table."

SENIORS PLAN TUG RIDE TO EL CAMPO

The members of the low senior class of the Oakland High school will be hosts at the tug ride to El Campo next Saturday. About 250 invitations have been issued for the excursion, which will be among the last social events to be held prior to the close of the high school term. The affair is in charge of Harold Wadsworth, Leland Taylor and Marjorie Cutting.

The Oakland High school quartet and band will furnish the music for the occasion. The company will return at 11 o'clock in the evening.

One of the most enjoyable features of the outing will be the moonlight dance, which will conclude the festivities of the day.

USES AND ABUSES OF MEDICINES

DISCUSSED BY OSGOOD THE DRUGGIST

Well Known Oaklander Has Some Original Opinions on the Subject of Medicine. Believes the Art of Prescribing for Illness the Most Difficult Phase of Study of Medicine.

"Drugs and medicines are harmless or helpful according to the quantities and combinations used for specific diseases and one of the most satisfactory features of the new stomach remedy I have been selling under my own name," said Mr. Fred Osgood of a newspaper reporter yesterday, in answer to numerous questions about Osgood's Dyspepsia Cure. "Is that it has proven itself a harmless and reliable cure. There are lots of medicines that will cure—if they don't kill first," said Mr. Osgood with a smile. "In other words, some medicines are too strong to be given to some patients and perhaps too weak for others. This remedy has the advantage of being harmless, and it is simply a case of a little more time and a little more medicine, when the patient is one of those people who must be treated with strong medicines to have a cure effected."

"I know of one woman in this city who has taken medicine that would be a heavy dose for the strongest man and who had enough perseverance and confidence in the remedy to continue its use considerably longer than is usually necessary to effect the cure desired. The longer I handle this dyspepsia medicine the more firmly convinced I am that it is the best remedy for stomach troubles on the market today and of course my opinion is formed by the experience of the hundreds who are buying it in Oakland, San Francisco and other cities of California. I am also receiving a good many orders from other States where the medicine has been heard of and we are kept busy at both my stores at Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington preparing the remedy and filling orders, though I confess I never expected to shine as a producer of 'The Greatest Stomach Medicine on Earth.'"

Osgood sells this stomach cure for a dollar a bottle. It consists of a double strength and a single strength some remarkable cures.

BAIRD MARRIAGE ANCIENT HISTORY

According to Mother of Bride Wedding Took Place in April 1910.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10. — Further light was thrown on the marriage of Miles T. Baird yesterday when Mrs. M. Spencer of Sacramento, who said that she was the mother of the bride, registered at the Stewart hotel along with the recently married couple.

According to Mrs. Spencer, the couple were married in Manila in April, 1910. Baird had been called to Shanghai on business and there met his present wife, who was traveling with her mother. They returned to this city about a month ago and their registration at the Stewart was the first information the friends of the Baird family had that Miles had again been married. Mrs. Spencer said that her daughter and Baird had been known to each other for several years.

Miles Baird was divorced from Ruth Jackson Baird in July, 1908. He went to Europe with his mother later. For a long period his name appeared on the court calendars largely because, his mother, Mrs. Veronica Baird, to save the Baird estate from his extravagances, had him declared incompetent, and also because of the suit brought against the estate by Mrs. Dottie Valencia Baird, widow of his brother David.

Miles Baird's first wife was remarried about a year ago to Harry Hill, a local merchant.

Mrs. Spencer said last evening that the Bairds would make their home in Sacramento.

SAN FRANCISCO DOCTOR IS ARRESTED AT ALTAR

BALTIMORE, Md., May 10.—Detectives arrested Dr. Franklin B. Morse of San Francisco as he was about to be married here last night to Miss Alice O'Neill, daughter of J. J. O'Neill. The charge against the doctor was obtaining money under false pretenses and the arrest was made at the home of the bride-elect when the minister was about to begin the ceremony.

When the officers announced their mission Miss O'Neill fainted, falling to the floor. She soon recovered and the minister urged her to permit him to continue the ceremony, but she declined, stating that until proved innocent his innocence she would withhold her consent.

Dr. Morse then was taken to the police station. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out for him in Washington by William J. More of that city, who charged him with procuring $150 from him by means of false pretenses. He also is wanted in this city to answer a civil suit for alleged breach of contract brought against him by Miss Jane Foreman.

MISSING JOHN ORTH IS NOW LEGALLY DEAD

VIENNA, May 10.—The controversy regarding the fate of Archduke John, son of the late Grand Duke Leopold II. of Tuscany, and was born in 1852. He renounced his rank and titles and called himself John Orth. He married Miss Stiebel, an actress, in London, in July, 1890, and with his wife sailed for Chile. Since then nothing has been heard of him, and it is believed the vessel, the Santa Margaretha, was wrecked and all on board perished.

Last July, on petition of Archduke Joseph Ferdinand, the courts declared Archduke John officially dead, allowing six months for filing a protest against this assumption.

YIDDISH STAGE THING OF PAST IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 10.—The sale of the Palace Opera House block at Twelfth street and Blue Island avenue yesterday marks the passing of the Yiddish stage in Chicago after an experiment of one season. The owners have decided to open the house next season as an English theater.

The Palace was the first play house in Chicago to offer only Yiddish attractions. The growing patronage of the younger Yiddish people of English playhouses is given as the reason for the change in the plans at the Palace.

CALIFORNIANS ARE PRESENT AT COURT

Brilliant Function Is Presided Over for First Time by King George.

LONDON, May 10.—The first court of George V was fully as brilliant as that of his father, Edward VII. There were present more than 1000 guests and the costumes worn were the most gorgeous seen in England in many days. A majority of gowns were studded with gems. Gold and silver brocade worn into shades of blue were most favored, and diamonds were the favorite jewels.

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of the American Ambassador, who was one of the central figures at the court, was attired in a gown of white brocade embroidered in black diamonds. She presented five American women.

Mrs. William H. Crocker of California wore a blue and gold brocade silk, princess gown with a velvet train, covered with point lace and diamonds. Her coiffure was adorned with a tiara of sapphires.

Miss Ethel Crocker appeared in white chiffon; on her hair, embroidered in silver. She wore a magnificent pearl necklace and carried a bouquet of lilies.

The other three Americans presented by Mrs. Reid were Miss Mabel Dalziel and Miss Eleanor Webb of New York, and Miss Agre Bennet of West Virginia.

Saturday as Sabbath and Religion Features of Kansas Case.

TOPEKA, Kan., May 10.—"If a man's religion causes him to recognize Saturday as his sabbath and fittingly observes the day, has he a right to keep his place of business open on Sunday?" This question must be decided by Attorney General John S. Dawson of Kansas, who has started a crusade to close all places of business in this state on Sunday. The argument is advanced by a Seventh Day Adventist, who operates a picture show in Leavenworth, Kan. The man closes his place of business Saturday but desires to keep his show open on Sunday. The laws of Kansas say all places of amusement must be closed Sunday but also say that no man's religion may be interfered with. It is declared that the picture show will be closed Saturday but will be open Sunday and a test case may result.

EXPLOSION CAUSES DEATH.

TOPEKA, May 10.—Two car repairers were killed by the explosion of several oil tanks in the car repair sheds of the Santa Fe shops late yesterday. Several others were injured by burns. The property loss from the fire which followed the explosion will be $50,000.

S.S.S. PERMANENTLY CURES BLOOD POISON

One reason why S. S. S. is so successful in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison is that this medicine strengthens and builds up the stomach and digestive members while it is purifying the blood. A great many medicines used in treating Contagious Blood Poison are composed largely of mercury and potash, and are recommended to the sufferer because they are intended to dry up or remove the humiliating outward symptoms. But such treatment cannot cure the disease, and its continued use will often so weaken and disease the stomach as to make a nervous wreck of the patient. And too, when these mineral medicines are left off the smoldering poison takes on new life and soon the old symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, brown, scaly spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc., return with increased virulence. Then the disease makes more rapid headway because the weakened system offers less resistance to its ravages.

S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and it does so by purifying the blood and keeping the stomach and digestive members in perfect condition all the while by its fine tonic effects. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, made entirely of roots, herbs and barks of recognized virtue as blood purifiers. It does not contain a particle of mineral and is therefore absolutely safe for any one. S. S. S. cures on the principle that not only must the poison be removed from the blood, but the circulation must also be enriched and vitalized with nourishing powers. S. S. S. is known everywhere as the greatest of all blood purifiers and a safe, certain cure for Contagious Blood Poison. Home Treatment Book and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

The matrons of honor will wear their handsome wedding robes of crepe satin, and the bridesmaids dainty lingerie gowns.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

PURITANICAL QUEEN MARY PUTS BAN ON ROUGE

Frigid Hand of Dictator Is Felt at the First Court of King George.

LONDON, May 10.—The frigid and restraining hand of Queen Mary was felt again in last night's court, the first of King George's reign.

The Lord Chamberlain, acting for the austere sovereign, had already notified the great dressmakers of London that they were to reform their customers; that is, the queen's wish that hobble dresses and clinging skirts should not be worn at state functions, and after the first gasp of dismay the edict was accepted as the last word.

But other words were to come, and yesterday afternoon a quiet "suggestion" by the queen was swiftly sent abroad that lip salve and rouge should be dispensed with by the women who were to attend the courts.

With the suggestion went a royal concession permitting the use of face powder in moderate quantities.

And so it happened that last night the facial pigments were noticeably absent and even the conceded rice powder was seen to have been "puffed" on with gentle hands.

Still another suggestion has been promulgated, and this, in the opinion of many, caps the restrictive climax. It is that the royal ban may be accepted as lying against women wearing elbow sleeves and "uncolored" afternoon dresses in the royal enclosure at Ascot, and that large hats are forbidden in the same sacred precinct.

Kidnaps Daughter

CORNELL, Ga., May 10.—Mrs. R. M. Early of San Francisco, who was separated from her husband, the latter being given the custody of their daughter, drove up yesterday to the house where the child was stopping, with Early's sister, bundled her into an auto and dashed for the railroad station. She is now on her way to California despite the pursuit of her father.

The fight for the child started in San Francisco last February, when the child was brought to this place by its father, Mrs. Early familiarized herself with the child's habits. When she reached here today she found her daughter playing in the yard.

The child immediately recognized her mother and with a glad cry ran to meet her. In a moment the throttle of the automobile was opened wide and mother and child were speeding back to the railroad station, where they boarded a train for the coast.

When Early learned of it he sent telegrams asking for the arrest of his wife.

To Remain on Stage

NEW YORK, May 10.—Two of the passengers on the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinz Wilhelm, which sailed yesterday, were Miss Margaret Anglin, the actress, and her husband, Howard Hull, to whom she was married last night in the Lady Chapel of St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Those who heard of Miss Anglin's marriage were interested as to whether or not this meant her retirement from the stage. Mrs. Hull settled the question when in reply to many questions she announced that she had no intention of retiring.

"I hope to work on the stage for the next two or three years, and Mr. Hull will work with me," she said, "as a writer."

Where Is Harem?

PARIS, May 10.—What has become of the famous harem skirt? Is it living, or is it dead? This question seems to be running through the minds of women throughout the world.

The failure of the garment to appear at the fashionable races on Sunday aroused wide comment.

The harem skirt is not seen in the streets. With a view to dissolving the mystery as to what has become of the garment, several leading costumers, and even firms which tried to launch the skirt on the market, were all visited. All admitted that things had not gone well.

Makes Own Hat

NEW YORK, May 10.—When Mme. Lillian Nordica sailed for Europe yesterday on the Kronprinz Wilhelm she wore a hat that she announced she had made herself. It was a plaited velvet turban of violet, trimmed with three huge white plumes, and was highly becoming.

George W. Young, Mme. Nordica's banker husband, who was at the pier to see her off, was proud of her handiwork as the diva herself. He said the family was commencing these days.

Takes Second Quick

RENO, May 10.—William C. Allen came here from Indianapolis eight months ago to secure a divorce and was about to consult a lawyer when news reached him that his wife, finding out his plans, had "beaten him to it" in Indiana. That release Allen and he lost no time in communicating with his fiancée, Margaret G. Coulter of San Francisco. The marriage was solemnized in the office of a local law firm and Justice of the Peace Lee J. Davis performed the ceremony. The Allens, after a trip to the coast, will return to Reno to make it their future home.

'Affinity' Illegal

PORTLAND, Or., May 10.—With much secrecy, E. J. Frazier, secretary and manager of the Eugene board of trade, was brought into the United States district court yesterday, and after pleading guilty to sending improper matter through the mails, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Bean.

Frazier admitted having sent a letter to Mrs. Madge Taylor of Portland, who was living on a homestead at Purduce, Or., bearing on the outside of the envelope the inscription "Affinity Madge." The envelope enclosed a photograph of Frazier, and W. G. Nesley, a times crafter, hiding behind bars with the inscription, "What Affinity Madge did to us, like."

YOU enter a store to buy a new suit or overcoat. The smart salesman talks wisely about WOOLENS and WORSTEDS, and you try to look wise, but you don't feel wise; you don't know the first thing about it. Isn't it time you did?

☞ You ask for a $15, $20, $25, or higher priced suit or overcoat—isn't it time you knew WHAT you were getting for your dollars? We have nothing to hide, so we are telling you ALL about wool and woollens.

☞ Look at the illustrations—the threads on the left are WOOLEN threads, those on the right are WORSTED—the two spinning processes have nothing in common save the wool, and even that differs.

☞ THE woolen spinning mule puts in the twists, THEN draws out the threads, giving the threads a CORKSCREW finish, with the result that the ends of the fibers stick out as illustrated and are afterwards used in a multitude of ways in the finishing process to give character and originality to the cloth—we are showing many magnificent specimens of beautiful woollens in our "ROOS-MADE" suits.

☞ THE worsted spinner puts in the twists and draws the yarns in the SAME operation with the result that the fibers are PARALLEL and the ends fastened in the thread—that gives the smooth finish to worsteds—we are showing many "ROOS-MADE" Suits in superb and true worsteds.

☞ Whether you buy woolen or worsted—SEE that YOU GET IT. Remember that there are plenty of HALF-SPUN, shoddy-filled woollens and HALF-TWISTED, cotton-backed worsteds. If you want GENUINE woollens or worsteds

DIRECTORS CLOSE DOWN COTTON MILL PLANT

SHUT DOWN WILL BE LONG

Directors Take Drastic Action at Meeting Held in San Francisco

Machinery Is Now Idle and Fires Have Been Drawn From Under Boilers

NOTICE:

On account of labor conditions this mill will be shut down indefinitely. By order of the California Cotton Mills Co.

At a meeting of the directors of the California Cotton Mills Company held this morning in San Francisco, it was voted to close the factory here immediately. News of the decision was at once wired to Superintendent Miller, and in compliance with the instructions, he discharged such of the employees as had not joined the ranks of the strikers, and ordered the fires drawn from under the boilers.

A notice is now posted on the gate stating that the mill is closed for an indefinite period.

Everything in the neighborhood of the California Cotton Mills, whose operatives are on strike, is peaceful and quiet to-day, and this is in fact the condition from the beginning of the strike. The only evidence of anything unusual is the comparative silence of the operating machinery of the mills, and for a time the gathering in the neighborhood of the gates of about one hundred industrial workers of the world and the sergeant of police and two patrolmen.

Curiously also attracted to the scene some of the strikers. Assistant Superintendent Miller says about five hundred employees are on strike, demanding the nine-hour day, which they have been getting heretofore, for eight hours' work under the operation of the eight-hour law passed at the last session of the legislature. There are, he claims, about 120 hands working in the mills today. The leaders of the strikers, however, declare that practically all of the strikers and odd hands employed in the mill before the walkout are on strike. Said Tony Figueroa, the chairman of the executive committee of the union of cotton workers, which has been temporarily organized, this morning:

SUMMARY DEMANDS.

"There are really only about forty men inside the mills today and they are chiefly well paid foremen and clerks who are holding on to the jobs. There is no work. Last evening the strikers sent in the following summary of their demands:

- "No cut in wages.
- "No blacklist.
- "No speeding up machines.
- "Recognition of the union.
- "No sliding scale of wages.
- "Minimum rate of wages for children, none to be under 14 years of age, $3 per day.
- "Eight hours per day."
- "The present rate for children is 75 cents per day, and the present rate of wages for adult mill hands is from $1.75 to $2.50 per day."

DIRECTORS HOLD SESSION.

Early this morning Superintendent William Rutherford went to San Francisco to attend a meeting of the directors summoned to discuss the situation. Speaking of the walkout, Assistant Superintendent Miller, a nephew of Rutherford's, said this morning:

"The trouble grew out of the new eight-hour law which was passed at the last session of the legislature. The law does not go into operation until May 22. We notified the mill hands that under the law those who were employed by the day would be paid eight hours' wages for eight hours' work on the basis of the present nine-hour day scale. Piece workers, however, would be paid the same rate per piece as they have been getting in the past. Sixty per cent are working by the piece.

OFFERS EXCUSE.

"We wanted to experiment with the machinery. We thought that we might speed up some of the machines and get more work out of them, and it was our intention to give the workers the benefit of the result. It might amount to five per cent of an increase in the result, but more. Our expert was being employed to make the experiment when the walkout took place.

"It will be impossible for us to give the mill hands the present nine hours' pay for eight hours' work, because we have been losing money as it is for the last two years.

"These cotton mills constitute the only industry in the state affected by the new eight-hour labor law which has come into effect with the East. We are in direct competition with five hundred mills located in Georgia and in North and South Carolina. There the hours of labor are from sixty to seventy-two hours per week, and the day rate of wages is lower than here. With the exception of 2000 bales of Imperial Valley

Yankee Doodle Chorus Will Accompany The "Hop King" in Greek Amphitheater

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, May 10.—The most elaborate extravaganza, and the most modern in its costuming and other features, ever given by the seniors during commencement week is to be staged at the Greek theater Friday night.

Moonlight and the artificial illumination which has been provided for, will cause the big amphitheater to glow, and the scene will be fairly like a picture of the "Hop King" is the vehicle which is to carry the evening's song and fun.

cotton, which we secured last year, the remaining fourteen thousand bales of raw material consumed in the mills came from the southern states. Now the freight rate on raw material from the south here is the same as that on manufactured goods. So far as the freight is concerned we are on even terms with the eastern manufacturers, but the eastern mills have an advantage over us in the matter of the cost of labor.

WORKERS EFFICIENT.

"We have more efficient workers than the southern mills have, and that is the only thing that has enabled us to keep up the competition. If we have to pay a higher wage to those who are working by the day than we have been paying, why we will be more seriously handicapped in the competition with the southern mills than we are now.

Last evening the temporary organization of the mill workers was formed at Castle Hall on Twenty-third avenue, with Tony Figueroa as temporary chairman and Ramon Austin as temporary secretary, and the following as members of the executive committee:

EMPLOYEES' STATEMENT.

Mary Marcell, Manuel Crabral, George Souza, Clifford Kendal, Mary Marks, Sarah Castro, Emma Hawkins, Della Swartz, Minnie Rodgers, Jennie Matthews, Tony Trant, P. J. McIntyre, Ramon Austin and Tony Figueroa.

Chairman Figueroa, when interviewed in behalf of THE TRIBUNE, this morning said:

"In the first place, I want you to correct the misstatement made yesterday that we were rioting. We walked out of the mills in an orderly way and we have since conducted ourselves in perfect order. Our troubles with the California Cotton Mills began about two years ago, when there was a cut made in the wages of the majority of the workers of 10 per cent. When the cut was made we were promised that as soon as times improved the wages would be restored. Since then conditions have improved, but we have not been able to get any redress.

"Whenever we have interviewed the foremen and the assistant superintendent, Mr. Miller, to ask for a raise in wages we were always put off. When we walked out the other day Superintendent Rutherford asked us why we didn't come to him before walking out. We told him, of course, that having been refused an eight-hour day at the old nine-hour rate by the foreman and assistant superintendent that we would receive the same answer from him.

GIST OF DEMANDS.

"Our demands now are for the same pay we were getting for a nine-hour day for an eight-hour day, abolition of child labor, no extra speeding of machines to endanger lives and limbs of operators, no black list, no sliding scale of wages, $1 per day wage for children.

"Until lately some of the children were paid only 60 cents for a day of nine hours. Lately these have been raised to 75 cents, none of them get over 75 cents per day.

"Our Cotton Workers' Union will be absolutely independent. We have no intention to affiliate with the Industrial Workers of the World or the Central Labor Union, or with any other labor organization of any kind. We mean to fight our own battles. We don't want anybody else to mix up in our affairs. We think we will be able to accomplish what is wanted without any outside help."

making. All sorts of choruses have been drilled to almost professional skillfulness. Goods are to appear in abbreviated costumes to a greater extent than at any previous extravaganza. There is to be a football chorus, a basketball chorus, a Yankee Doodle chorus, and a bevy of "baby dolls."

Miss Marguerite Humphrey, a senior student and member of the cast of the "Hop King," sustained a painful injury to her right leg at a recent rehearsal when she fell while practicing an intricate step in the Yankee Doodle chorus.

The young dancer was carried to the students' infirmary by William Donald, a member of the cast, and Coach Fred Carville. Her injuries were treated by Dr. Sawyer. While they were not of a dangerous nature, she will probably be prevented from taking part in the production of the extravaganza.

Among the other coeds who were dancing with Miss Humphrey in the chorus are Miss Lila Truick, Miss Olive Cutter, Miss Cora Chalmers, Miss Florence Wool.

MAYOR MOTT THANKS CITIZENS OF OAKLAND

(By MAYOR FRANK K. MOTT.)

"I cannot too sincerely acknowledge my thanks for the expression of confidence shown in my administration by the voters yesterday.

"It was not a matter of men, but of measures. The policies that I have helped to inaugurate during the past six years were on trial and it is highly gratifying to see that the people of Oakland are determined to continue in building a bigger and greater city.

"Yesterday's vote was a proclamation to the world that Oakland, Cal., has reaffirmed her determination to reach a place in very front rank of American cities.

"My entire course throughout the campaign was to educate and interest the voters in the measures and policies that I have long considered to be for their best interests as individuals and for the betterment of our city. Not a single criticism has been made by me of any of my opponents nor have I permitted anything but the exact truth to be said or circulated in my behalf.

"As I frequently said on the platform during the past two months there would be no deviation from my policy of doing everything possible to make Oakland a truly great city. I reaffirm my promise to give the very best that is in me during my next administration for the benefit of Oakland and her people."

TO THE ELECTORS OF OAKLAND:

To all the electors of Oakland who supported my candidacy for Commissioner No. 4 I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude. I made my fight on the issue that the annexed district was entitled to representation in the city government in the person of some resident in that territory. I still believe that had that issue been more fully understood I would have been elected. I accept my defeat at the polls in the spirit that all good citizens should manifest when the majority has spoken. I shall always continue to give my best efforts to further the progress and prosperity of the annexed district and all of Oakland.

To the gentleman who has been declared the choice of the people I extend congratulations and assure him that he will always find me ready to be of whatever assistance I can in furthering the efficient and successful conduct of the office to which he has been chosen. The battle is over and what remains is for all of us to pull together in harmony for the advantage of Oakland and her citizens.

The Vast Financial Influence Wielded by U. S. Steel Corporation.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Perhaps the most unusual document ever presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission was submitted by Examiner Mackley, conducting the hearing in the rate discrimination brought by the Alpha Cement Co. It is a chart submitted by the company's counsel to show the vast influence exerted by the United States steel corporation and J. P. Morgan and Co. in the railroad and industrial affairs of the nation.

The chart purports to show that the total capitalization of the companies and corporations on whose boards the steel directors and J. P. Morgan and Co. partners, appear amounts to $15,857,629,339. The chart also shows that the total gross income of the companies is $4,640,508,502.

NAMES OF 25 GIVEN.

The names of twenty-five men of wealth are given in the list. Opposite each name is the total amount of the capital of the companies in which he is a director. In order to avoid duplications, suitable reductions were made in cases where more than one member of the group of twenty-five appeared on any single directorate. The list includes:

Director	Capital	Income
George F. Baker	$1,044,808,403	$1,404,835,101

WANT BROADWAY EXTENDED NORTH

Merchants' Exchange Begins a Campaign With That Object in View.

The Merchants' Exchange will take up the matter of having Broadway cut through from its present terminus at Temescal creek to the Tunnel road, when the new city administration goes into power under the charter. The following committee from the exchange will gather the necessary data on the question in preparation for the agitation: A. Jonas, chairman; Theodore Gier, Wilber Walker, E. A. Young and H. N. Gard. The committee has already gone over the route of the proposed extension and reported at last night's meeting of the directors of the exchange that the only obstruction lies in the stretch between Temescal creek and Fifty-ninth street. The property at that point is owned by Charles Butters and negotiations with a view to learning on what terms a right-of-way can be secured will be instituted by the committee.

From Fifty-ninth street to the Tunnel road a right-of-way is already assured. If the proposed change is carried out it will shorten travel from Oakland and points in Contra Costa county by at least half an hour and will give travelers the full benefit of the advantages to be derived from the Tunnel road for cutting through, through of which the Merchants' Exchange fought hard some years ago.

Fells was working in his hay field when he heard the girl scream and saw the train coming at express speed, drawn by two engines. Fells ran to save the child, but was not strong enough to wrench her away.

Burns and Two Detectives to Reach Los Angeles Next Week.

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—A statement tending to corroborate the alleged confession of Orville E. McManigal regarding his dynamiting operations was obtained today by Malcolm McLaren, an operative of the Burns detective agency.

McManigal told McLaren, according to the latter, that when he was here in December to blow up the Llewellyn Iron Works, he took a trolley ride to the San Gabriel Mission where, with other passengers, he was photographed.

McLaren considers this of importance for, if he finds the photograph, the fact that the alleged dynamiter was here, as he claims, will be established. McLaren is at work in an effort to trace the picture.

The detective said that Wm. J. Burns and two of his operatives would arrive here next week with exhibits of importance to the prosecution. They are said to include documentary evidence as well as explosives, fuses and other material used in constructing bombs.

HOBERT CONVEYS VALUABLE HOLDING

Transfer of Improved Property Believed to Have Been Made to Wife.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—A deed executed by Walter S. Hobart, millionaire clubman, on August 10, 1909, which conveys more than 400 acres of improved property in Hillsborough and Menlo park to the Mercantile Trust Company, was yesterday filed in Redwood City with County Recorder Harold Helmer. The holdings are valued at $300,000. The deed was executed shortly before Mrs. Hobart separated from her husband and departed for Europe with her two small daughters. There she is at the present time.

The deed conveys three valuable tracts of land. The first parcel includes the famous Hobart bungalow in Whipple canyon, Hillsborough, where the clubman now resides. There are sixty-seven acres here and the property adjoins the palatial residence and estate of Charles W. Clark, son of former Senator William A. Clark, of Montana, multi-millionaire copper king. Young Clark purchased his estate in Hillsborough from the Hobarts. The second parcel is also in the municipality of millions and contains 173 acres. The third tract contains 162 acres in Menlo park and adjoins the holdings of F. W. Macdonald.

Whether Hobart has deeded the property to his wife to be held in trust by the Mercantile Trust Company is a matter of speculation.

The Hobarts resided in the old George Howard cottage in Hillsborough when they agreed to separate. Here Mrs. Hobart maintained her residence until the autumn of 1909, when she left for Europe for an indefinite stay. Since then the clubman has resided in his secluded bungalow in Whipple canyon.

DEATH ENDS CAREER OF THOMAS W. HIGGINSON

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 10.—Colonel Thomas Wentworth Higginson, the noted historian, essayist and speaker, died here last night. Death was due to a general decline. He was 87 years old and was born in Cambridge December 22, 1823, being a son of Stephen and Louisa Higginson. He had a distinguished ancestry. His paternal grandfather was a successful shipmaster before the Revolution and later a delegate to the Continental Congress. His mother was a daughter of Captain Thomas Storrow, a British officer. Colonel Higginson was educated here at the preparatory school of William Wells, where James Russell Lowell and William W. Storey were among his schoolmates. At Harvard, where he was graduated with honors in 1845, he was the youngest in his class and second in rank. He spent two years at the Harvard Divinity School, graduating in 1847, and was shortly afterward ordained as a pastor of the Unitarian church at Newburyport.

$30,000,000 LOAN IS AUTHORIZED BY CHINA

PEKIN, May 10.—An imperial edict, issued yesterday, authorized the loan of $30,000,000 for the construction of a railway in Central China. It was signed a year ago by financiers representing the United States, France, Great Britain and Germany.

Another edict authorizes the viceroy to abolish the production of opium. Great Britain having consented to reduce the exportation of India opium to China as rapidly as the home growth is exterminated.

The important edicts which abolished the grand council and substituted a constitutional cabinet of ten members, indicate that the government is assuming a responsibility which heretofore has lacked revolutionary evidence, and that the assembly's unabated hostility has forced the government to lead or to be led.

LAY FOUNDATIONS FOR MACHINE SHOP

Standard Oil at Work on New Buildings in City of Richmond.

RICHMOND, May 10.—Foundations have been laid at the northeast corner of the new area being filled in by the Healy-Tibbitts company for new machine shops, new barrel house and an extensive asphaltum plant. The carpenter shop is to be removed to the cut in the hill formed by taking away earth to make the fill of twelve acres. Many teams are busy hauling in brick for the new buildings, which will begin to rise at once. The work of installing new stiles and vats in the general enlargement of the works is under way. The three new shops that are to be erected will be an important addition to the plant. They replace old buildings that have become too small for the increased output.

DR. BURKE SEEKS FREEDOM ON BAIL

Habeas Corpus Proceedings to That End Continued for One Week.

SANTA ROSA, May 10.—The application of Dr. Willard P. Burke for a writ of habeas corpus to secure bail was partially heard by Judge Thomas C. Denny in the Superior Court here and continued for one week, during which time the defendant is to be subjected to a most thorough examination by three physicians of the county named by the court for the purpose of who will report and then be subjected to an examination by the attorneys for the defense. The court named Dr. A. M. Thompson of Sonoma, Dr. J. T. O'Brien of Petaluma and Dr. J. Walter Scowell of Healdsburg, as the physicians to make the examination. Whether or not Doctor Burke is granted bail depends practically on the report presented by the physicians named by the court.

Doctor Burke claimed to have lost weight heavily, as he once weighed 100 while now his weight is only 135. Heart trouble and kidney disease also afflicted him, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of catarrh in her system. Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this is a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it falls to give satisfaction. With this understanding, no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test. There is only one way to overcome catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the snuffs, douches or like remedies for years without getting the temporary relief at best. Catarrh in general is a diseased condition of the system that shows locally most frequently in discharges from mucous membranes. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition if a complete cure is to be reached. That internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

C. E. JORDAN LEADS PALO ALTO CANDIDATES

PALO ALTO, May 10.—At the municipal election a total of 581 votes were cast with the following result:
C. E. Jordan 415, W. F. Henry 332, Charles E. Wing 276, Edward Ackley 215, E. T. Vandervoort 204, F. E. Woodard 204, Joseph Larkin 222, J. P. Parkinson 198, Ernest Wilson 188, John C. Spencer 181.

Jordan and Henry received more than 200 votes for judges of the court. Cooper of the appellate court, District Attorney Clarence F. Lea assisted by Assistant District Attorney George W. Hoyle, appeared for the people to resist the application for bail.

$163,721 OF GEBHARD ESTATE IS TAXABLE

NEW YORK, May 10.—The transfer tax appraisal of the estate of Frederick Gebhard shown that he left $163,721 subject to tax. A large amount of stock was put down as worthless, and no value was put on his wearing apparel. In explanation of this, the report said that for some six months prior to his death he was ill and confined more or less to his home; for that reason naturally he did not require any great amount of wearing apparel. His jewelry was appraised at $356, which included a watch worth $50.

After the meeting scissors and darning needles will be kept busy making baskets to be used at the elementary banquet.

GERMS IN HER SYSTEM

Every Woman Should Read This Advice and the Generous Offer That Goes With It.

The number of diseases peculiar to women is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a mere mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of catarrh in her system. Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this is a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it falls to give satisfaction. With this understanding, no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test. There is only one way to overcome catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the snuffs, douches or like remedies for years without getting the temporary relief at best. Catarrh in general is a diseased condition of the system that shows locally most frequently in discharges from mucous membranes. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition if a complete cure is to be reached. That internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

Reckall Muc-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescription of an eminent physician who for thirty years made catarrh his specialty. This remedy is admirably adapted to the treatment of the catarrhal ailments of women. It purifies and enriches the blood, tends to stop mucous discharges, aids in removing impurities from the system, soothes, heals and strengthens the mucous tissues, and brings about a feeling of health and strength.

RECIPROCITY GETS INTO COMMITTEE

Senators Consider Treaty; Neither Branch of Congress in Session.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Neither branch of Congress was in session today, but there was more, or less activity of committees. Interest in the Senate side of the capitol centered in the hearings on Canadian reciprocity before the finance committee. Farmers, paper manufacturers and wire manufacturers addressed the committee. Some of those who talked were before that body when the last Congress considered the subject. They seemed to direct their remarks largely to the new members of the committee. The House committees on territories again considered statehood for Arizona and New Mexico, delay having been caused because of insistence by the New Mexico members that the Republican be admitted without the necessity of voting on a proposed amendment. There will be a report by the minority when the resolution is submitted to the House Friday.

The Democrats should apply some prudence in planning a Presidential nomination. For once, it has more than an academic interest.—Boston Transcript.
